POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Ted Kennedy Is Suggested For "Profiles In Courage"

A political writer who visits Senator Edward M. Kennedy in the hospital comes away with the strong impression that a postscript should be added to the late President John F. Kennedy's book, "Profiles in Courage."

It would be about uncomplaining Ted Kennedy who has displayed unflinching courage in the months since the unfortunate accident when his plane crashed on the way to the Democratic State Convention in West Springfield last June.

Ted Kennedy is now in his sixth month in the hospital. Some time during Christmas Week he expects to walk out of the New England Baptist Hospital and return home to spend the Yuletide with his wife and children.

Exactly when he leaves the hospital will depend on how long it takes him to learn to walk again after

Bus Stoning Stresses Need For Control

The stoning of a bus on the afternoon of Thanksgiving Day, with consequent injuries to three Brookline High School girls and a teacher, convinced many Newton residents that the appeal of Principal Richard W. Mechem of Newton High School for parental cooperation in curbing "a growing appetite for violence among teenagers" should receive prompt response.

The stoning shattered windows of the bus as it approached the intersection of Walnut and Hull Sts., Newtonville, with its load of Brookline High students who had attended the Newton-Brookline high school football game.

According to Mr. Mechem, his decision to make the appeal was reached long before that and other recent disturbances. It was contained in a letter to parents, and called attention to "an apparent tolerance, and even hunger, for violence."

"We see this in high-speed driving, use of firecrackers, heavy drinking, vandalism and fighting," the letter stated.

"Some of these acts are simply the result of idle hands looking for something to do," Mechem's letter went on, "but there is a general acceptance of such behavior which cannot be readily dismissed."

The principal urged parents to set an example through their own conduct, and told the parents of some 2500 students that "such ideas cannot be instilled in children by lectures or rules."

It marked the first time that Richard Cardinal Cushing's Archdiocesan Ecumenical Commission has given permission for Catholics and the Catholic clergy to participate in such a service.

Clergy from six Newton Protestant Churches, Temple Shalom, and Saint Bernard's Catholic Church joined in the service.

The Rev. Robert W. Huston, Newtonville Methodist Church, delivered the sermon on "The Heart of the Master."

Msgr. Bernard S. O'Kane, St. Bernard's Church, gave the invocation and led the congregation in the Lord's Prayer.

Rabbi Murray Rothman, Temple Shalom, delivered the priestly benediction.

The Newton Recreation Department's Special Class Swimming program for physically handicapped and mentally retarded children is now in its third successful year of operation.

The Sidney Hill Country Club has once again donated the use of its beautiful swimming pool and other facilities for this program.

The Newton Special Class P.T.A. have cooperated to provide this opportunity for the children by assisting as volunteers.

The swimming program started on Nov. 5, and will continue through May of 1965, with classes held on three afternoons per week, Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays for a one hour period.

Children attend classes with classmates from their own school for a six week period and then another school takes their place for the next six week course. Presently, children from the Bowen, Hamilton and both Weeks and Warren Junior High Schools are enrolled.

Children from the Peabody School and Newton High will be enrolled in classes starting after the first of the year. This year the program has extended from two afternoons per week to three, each class averages about 14 to 16 children. Transportation is provided to and from the pool.

John B. Penney, Newton recreation commissioner, is once again happy that Gilbert Champagne, water safety chairman for the Newton Red Cross, is chief instructor. Thomas McGoldrick is an assistant recreation leader who assists with the program.

Mayor, School Board In Tiff Over '65 Finances

A split has developed between Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and the School Committee as to the amount of money which should be spent in Newton next year for the construction of new school buildings.

The School Board is asking that $4,800,000 be provided in 1965 for six school projects.

Mayor Gibbs has indicated his willingness to approve bond issues totalling about $2,425,000, or approximately half what the School Committee is asking.

School Board Chairman Haskell C. Freedman is planning a conference with the Mayor in the near future in an attempt to reconcile the differences.

Whether the impasse can be resolved is uncertain. If it is not, work on the erection of a new Burr School, which a large number of Auburndale residents are demanding be started as soon as possible, will not begin until some time after 1965.

Mayor Gibbs declared yesterday that erection of a the Burr School cannot be commenced next year unless the School Committee revises its priority schedule.

The Mayor further asserted that he cannot see his way clear to borrow much more than $2.4 million for school purposes in a single year. He expressed the conviction that it is impossible to undertake in a span of a year all the projects proposed by the School Board without weakening the city's financial condition.

Gibbs said it is his understanding that the School Board has given top priority to the construction of a new Bigelow Junior School for which he has recommended that a $2,075,000 bond issue be floated.

He stated that he also intends to give his assent to a $350,000 loan to finance the construction of an addition to the Lincoln-Elliott School on Pearl street in Nonantum.

But the Mayor added that's about as far as he thinks he can go next year.

Members of the Burr PTAs in Auburndale will wait upon the Mayor today to try to get him to change his mind so that work might be started on the construction of a new Burr School next year.

Mayor Gibbs told The Graphic yesterday that the only way work can be started on the Burr School in 1965 is for the School Board to revise its priority schedule and give top priority to the Burr project. School Committee Chair-

Famed Singer At Memorial Elks Service

The internationally famed singer Luigi Vena will be the featured vocalist at the combined Newton-Brookline Elks memorial service to be conducted at the quarters of the Newton Lodge, 429 Centre St., Newton, Sunday evening, Dec. 6, at 8 o'clock.

In 1953, Mr. Vena sang at the wedding Mass of Jacqueline Bouvier and John F. Kennedy. Again, last year, at the funeral rites in St. Matthew's Cathedral, Washington, D. C., he sang for his beloved President at the request of Mrs. Kennedy.

The featured speaker will be John E. Fenton Jr., professor of law at Suffolk University. The exercises will be open to the public, and refreshments will be served at the conclusion of the program.

Named to the Board of Governors were Donald B. Conant and Irving Usen of Newton Centre.

Jarvis Farley of Wellesley was elected second vice president of the 260-bed community

The expansion program will provide two major additions to the hospital, with extensive renovation and reassignment within the existing plant to accomplish efficiency and flexibility. New facilities will include surgery, X-ray, psychiatric beds, beds for patients needing extended care, and a new out patient department for general and psychiatric patients.

Laboratories of pathology, physical therapy, special care, pediatrics and obstetrics will be relocated. Approximately 75 additional beds, made possible by the project, will increase the total bed capacity to 335.

This makes it possible to give service to Newton through leadership recruitment, training programs, and day and resident camp-

Major Expansion Is Hospital Goal Here

It's the annual "Candy Selling Time" again for the Newton District, Camp Fire Girls, who will be calling on their neighbors from Dec. 4 through the 14th.

The Camp Fire Girls have an added incentive this year because the Greater Boston Council, of which Newton is a strong member, has just purchased a magnificent 143 acre campsite in the Berkshires at East Otis for the Juniors Hi and Horizon (Senior High) Club members.

The main purpose of this annual candy sale is to balance the yearly budget of the Greater Boston Council. The council, serving girls in 59 communities is a Red Feather Agency and receives about 50 percent of its total budget from the United Fund; the Camp Fire Council must raise the other 50 percent and the annual candy sale is the way it is done.

This makes it possible to give service to Newton through leadership recruitment, training programs, and day and resident camp-

New Synagogue, School Planned

Melvin L. Cheifitz, president, and David Gopen, chairman of the building committee, have announced that contract has been signed with Carter Construction Company to begin work on the new structure on the land at the junction of Ward street and Morseland venue, Newton Centre.

The architectural firm of David J. Abraham and Associates, with Israel Nigrosh as the principal have designed the synagogue to be of contemporary design, blending into the residential surroundings with a dignified simplicity.

Rabbi Abraham Kooly, founder and spiritual leader of Congregation Beth El-Ateret, viewed and approved the design of the sanctuary with regard to all matters of Jewish Law, including the traditional seating arrangements and Center Pulpit for Torah Reading.

The sanctuary will have over 300 permanent seats and will be separated from the adjoining social hall by a large folding partition. On High Holy Days over 1,000 worshippers will be seated at services.

The Social Hall will accommodate 700 people for meetings, lectures, etc., and when functioning as a banquet hall 320 people will be

Newton Smith College Club Meets Dec. 5

The high cost of a college education for a girl is being met by college alumnae who club together for the purpose of raising money for scholarship aid to needy students in their local community.

Such an effort is being made by the Newton Smith College Club, which is sponsoring a wine-tasting on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 5, from 5 to 7.

The cooperation of husbands makes this a truly co-ed affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Saunders of 230 Dudley Road,

Newton Centre, will open their home for the event. Husband of officers and members will be pourers.

Mrs. Charles J. MacDonald is club president. Mrs. Charles L. Short is general chairman of the wine-tasting and Mrs. Henry W. Keyes, Jr., in charge of the sale of tickets.

They are available through her for $2.50. At the door the price is $3.00.

Firmness is that admirable quality in ourselves that is merely stubbornness in others.

Goal .

Recommendations of the medical staff and department heads are incorporated in the plan. In addition, it relates the hospital service to factors such as population growth, health resources in the Greater Boston area, and minimum service demands anticipated during the next decade.

During the past decade, the hospital has experienced significant growth. The number of emergency cases has nearly tripled. X-ray examinations and laboratory work volume have more than doubled. The number of operations and the number of admissions to the hospital have risen continually.

"Eighteen years have passed since the hospital initiated an expansion program," Mr. White indicated. "Changing concepts of patient care and the growing demands for service require substantial changes within the plant, if the hospital is to remain effective and efficient. New construction is essential to meet current demands, as well as those anticipated by 1970."

Speaking at the annual meeting, Dr. Charles A. Haney of Newtonville, Chairman of the Board of Haney Associates, the professional fundraising firm directing the campaign, said: "Our interest in the success of this campaign is much more than a professional one. Many members of my own family have been patients in Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Seven of my grandchildren were born there and my mother is presently a patient there."

"While we do not have a large cushion of industrial contributors to help make this campaign successful, there is adequate financial potential within the hospital community to reach our goal. We must count on the dedication of enthusiastic volunteer solicitors. And those being asked to pledge their financial support must be more than ordinarily generous," he said.

Officers for the coming year elected at the annual meeting were: George L. White of Newton, president; Philip C. Raye of Wellesley, first vice president; Jarvis Farley of Wellesley, second vice president; Gordon K. Wentworth of Wellesley, treasurer; Richard S. Chamberlain of Wellesley, assistant treasurer; and Ralph T. Taber of West Newton, clerk.

man Freedman replied that the School Board actually isn't giving one project priority over another, explaining that the School Board members are not undertaking to determine which obsolescent school building should be torn down first.

Freedman said he would like to see all the projects proposed by the School Committee started next year.

Mayor Gibbs answered that it's a question of what the city can do without weakening its financial position.

He pointed out that when he took office on New Year's Day in 1960 the city's bonded debt amounted to $20,270,000 and that its per capita debt was the highest of any city in Massachusetts.

Since that time, Gibbs stated, the city's debt has been lowered to about $15.2 million, and it now ranks ninth among the cities of the Commonwealth in the size of its per capita debt.

To accomplish this, Mayor Gibbs asserted, he has tried to borrow no more than $1.6 million per year. He said he told the School Committee when he became Mayor that he would spend $1 million per year for school building purposes and would limit loans for all other municipal purposes to $600,000 per year.

Members of the School Committee agree that the Mayor told them this, but they said they have not spent $1 million each year, and they would like the money now which they could have had in the preceding years.

Mayor Gibbs is unwilling to make this concession. He says his $1 million per year offer was not intended to be accumulative so that the School Board could wait three or four years and then spend $3 or $4 million.

The Mayor said he feels he has a responsibility to all the citizens of Newton and considers that an equitable balance should be achieved in spending the city's money.

He pointed out that the President's survey showed that 6 percent of the people in Newton earn less than $3,000 a year.

Gibbs cited that there is no swimming pool in Newton and voiced the conviction that there is a public need for one.

He said that he had to float a $2 million loan to finance the erection of a new municipal incinerator in order to meet a vital public need.

Proposals for new school buildings, the Mayor added, must be considered in the light of what the city can afford to spend and what proportion of the amount it can afford to spend should be used for school purposes.

He indicated that he feels the School Committee should give priority to school building projects in the order in which they should be undertaken. The Mayor also made it plain that he does not believe the School Committee is being realistic in proposing that projects totalling $4.8 million be launched next year.

School Committee Chairman Freedman said the Mayor offered the School Board $1 million a year for the erection of new schools, that $5 million has not been expended for this purpose during the five years Mr. Gibbs has been Mayor and that he feels the projects totalling $4.8 million should be approved.

These would include the erection of the new Bigelow Junior High and Burr Schools and the construction of additions to the Carr, Hyde and Lincoln-Elliott Schools.

Freedman declared that it is true the School Board could suggest priorities but added that it is most difficult to determine priorities on old school buildings which should be torn down."

I am sure the Mayor appreciates our position, and the School Committee looks forward to a meeting with the Mayor in the near future for the purpose of reconciling the differences which exist and to work together to expedite the school building program for the benefit of the children of Newton, consistent with the city's ability to meet these needs at this time," asserted the diplomatic Freedman.

Today delegation of parents of children attending the antiquated Burr School will meet with the Mayor to press for the speedy construction of a new Burr School. The Mayor undoubtedly will tell them the only way this can be done is for the School Board to give priority to the Burr School project. He also will inform them he would be glad to see a new Burr School built so he could get the Murray Road School as an adjunct to City Hall.

The only thing is, the Mayor will conclude, that there's just so much money which can be expended in one year for new schools.

It will be several months, incidentally, before plans for a new Burr School will be ready.

Educator Takes A Stand

The appeal to parents by Newton High School Principal Richard W. Mechem for co-operation in helping control a growing trend towards violence among the growing-ups has been given wide publicity.

Principal Mechem's gesture is commendable, unique and deserves the immediate consideration of all parents of teens, boys and girls.

Although the appeal to parents was delivered with the report cards a few days ago, the Newton educator stated that the decision to make the move was arrived at during the summer and was not the result of more recent acts of violence and vandalism perpetrated by youngsters in these parts.

The latest local act of hoodlumism, and one which spotlighted the community state-wide, was the stoning of a bus following the Brookline-Newton High football game. This was another in many Newton hooliganisms.

Fortunately no serious injuries resulted in the nit wit action but three Brookline high school girls and a teacher were treated by physicians for cuts resulting from flying glass. Some of those riding in the Brookline-bound bus could easily have suffered the loss of eyesight. This, no doubt, would have compensated the hoodlums for their efforts in wanton destruction and viciousness.

A tragic consideration of brutality and violence by teen-agers is the undeniable fact that many of them are on the very thresholds of adult manhood and womanhood when their vandals are committed. A tragic life stretches ahead of them if they enter into adulthood with such philosophies.

Principal Mechem feels that much of the violence of youngsters, spreading across the nation, is the result of laxity on the part of parents. There is no denying that the area of responsibility for much of the juvenile delinquency of today rests with the parents.

However, a blanket accusation of parents is not the answer. Many adults have labored diligently at the task of being good parents, have approached the problem with intelligence, only to have their young sprouts go off on a tangent into delinquent behavior.

There is much in the world around us today, taken at face value and rarely challenged, which add to the burdens of parenthood. It's virus is constantly spread into the home via the television screen, into the amusement world by stage and screen, in magazines and certain kinds of news media.

Many parents have succumbed to the national pattern and have been swept along with the tide. Their supine acquiescence have added to the difficulties of other parents who attempt to face their problems with resolution and a concern for their children's futures.

That hoary, old truism still makes sense today to the effect that "as the twig is bent, so grows the tree."

The human twig is bent and shaped for life in the home. This important task cannot be delegated entirely to the schools or churches. It rests with the parents in the family circle. They cannot sidestep the responsibility, which bears out the statement by the Newton educator.

Principal Mechem has made a solid contribution to the general area of solution to juvenile violence. It is a major problem of our times, and a puzzling one, especially in this land of ours. If youth would just look outward, across the world's oceans, to other less favored lands, the answer to their unrest might be discovered.

Security Mills To Control Odor

Steps are being taken to abate and eventually eliminate a nuisance caused by the introduction of a new dye process at Security Mills, 24 Munroe St., Newtonville. Paul Robinson, president of the mills, assured those who attended a meeting last week in the office of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs.

The meeting was called by Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf public health director, after neighbors had complained of odors.

fumes, smoke, soot, rust and steam emanating from the building.

The nuisance will be entirely eliminated in about two weeks it was assured, and meantime, the mills will reduce the number of hours and the amount of heat in the offending process.

The public is cordially invited to attend this event.

Richard S. Reingold, '65, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arnold Starr, 126 Valentine street, West Newton, was awarded his letter in cross country at Williston Academy, Easthampton.

The meeting was called by Dr. Henry M. Greenleaf public health director, after neighbors had complained of odors.

Their entire cost, $1,571,576, is an increase of $90,406. The expenditures include costs of text books, plant maintenance, transportation, operation of summer schools, etc.

This, it was estimated, together with the $581,000 salary overlay from the 1964 budget, plus raises for teachers and other personnel, would increase the 1965 budget by approximately $900,000. The boost represents 41 cents of the tax dollar.

Emergency School Construction Sought

Editor of The Graphic:
The Newton school building program is falling behind — year after year.

Newton schools are the best in the country. This we have read and noted in the best national publications within the past few months.

These paradoxical statements point to an axiomatic fact — it will not be long when poor school facilities will have their effect on the entire educational program in Newton.

Recent records of Hyde School PTA note that the school had a larger enrollment than was anticipated this year, particularly in the 2nd and 3rd grade levels. The basement stockroom is being refurbished and will be used as an additional classroom.

Here is an indication that the current slowdown in school building is taking its toll.

Almost a year ago the parents of Hyde children heard School Committee reiterate the need for additional classroom space. In due course, last January, this acute situation was brought to the attention of Mayor Gibbs, who promised to appoint an architect at once. Here, it is nine months later, and the architect is still drawing preliminary sketches.

Parents and teachers have asked Mayor Gibbs for improved facilities since 1960. Platitudes and promises have brought us to this serious situation today.

We cannot have good schooling without good schools. An emergency program is needed now — not in the future.

Sincerely,
Harold M. Band, chairman
Hyde School PTA Building
Committee.

Navy Department's Bureau of Aeronautics and member of the Procurement Review Committee in the executive office of the Secretary.

Dr. Waks has worked at the Harvard Business School as an instructor, research associate, and doctoral research fellow, teaching a course in Analytic Writing and participation in research on the weapons acquisition process. A resident of Newton, Dr. Waks is affiliated with many professional organizations. He is president of Boston Regional Chapter, National Security Industrial Association, and is a member of the Joint Study Group on Military Resource Allocation Methodology. He is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

The public is cordially invited to attend this event.

$900,000 Hike Seen For 1965 School Budget

The School Committee was given a list of non-salary items that will effect the 1965 Newton school budget by John E. Gilliland director of business services last week.

Their entire cost, $1,571,576, is an increase of $90,406. The expenditures include costs of text books, plant maintenance, transportation, operation of summer schools, etc.

This, it was estimated, together with the $581,000 salary overlay from the 1964 budget, plus raises for teachers and other personnel, would increase the 1965 budget by approximately $900,000. The boost represents 41 cents of the tax dollar.

he ventures out of bed. He has been receiving therapy treatments in preparation for that day.

For months Ted Kennedy was in a frame bed only slightly above the floor.

Now he's in a special bed which slants at almost a 90-degree angle. He has a rod over the top of his bed on which he periodically pulls, presumably to strengthen his shoulder muscles.

One thing Ted Kennedy doesn't want is sympathy. When you mention how well he has withstood the ordeal of being bed-ridden for more than five months, he brushes it off light with the remark, "It hasn't been so bad." Then he goes on to talk about something else.

A visitor can't help but wonder if he would be as philosophical and uncomplaining if he were in Ted's place, and he knows he wouldn't be.

Parents and teachers have asked Mayor Gibbs for improved facilities since 1960. Platitudes and promises have brought us to this serious situation today.

We cannot have good schooling without good schools. An emergency program is needed now — not in the future.

Sincerely,
Harold M. Band, chairman
Hyde School PTA Building
Committee.

It probably is safe to say that Ted Kennedy does more work for his State while on his back in a hospital room than do most of the other 99 Senators who are able to go about their duties in a normal manner.

Ted watches the news and the football games on television. The rest of the time, except when he is sleeping, he works, writes, dictates, talks on the telephone, has therapy, or reads for relaxation. He is writing a series of essays on his father.

His staff members estimate that he makes an average of 40 telephone calls a day.

An enthusiastic football fan and a former player who once scored a touchdown for Harvard against Yale, Ted recalls a prep school game in which he played that was attended by the late President who instructed him to run back to the huddle instead of walking. When he talks of his late brother, he refers to him as "the President."

Ted's favorite conversational subject is politics. He has an up-to-the-moment knowledge of what's going on in the political world. After more than five months in the hospital, he still has a keen sense of humor.

As you leave Ted Kennedy's room, you wonder to yourself if he really will be able to join his family for Christmas.

Then as you reflect on his flaming courage and his determination to overcome every obstacle, you're sure he will be. It's a warming thought.

And don't bet that this young man, now only 32 years old, will not one day be President of the United States.

Senior Supper, an annual event which includes both food and entertainment is now in the final planning stages, to be held on Dec. 12 and the cost of $3.50 per ticket, the supper will help to raise money for the class gift and other senior activities.

The catered meal, a roast beef dinner, is scheduled to be followed by student written skits which are set at a mid-eve high school. These will be in the auditorium.

The Senior Class Committee has also made sure that the seniors will be properly attired for graduation. Tuesday morning, November 17, was devoted to measuring students for caps and gowns to be worn at the June 9 graduation.

Nearly all of the 579 seniors were measured by representatives of the Moore Company who is providing the gowns at a rental fee of $3.75 per student. Each senior will keep the tassel from his cap as a souvenir of the ceremony.

A new addition to the numerous student aids at South is the experimental Smoking Clinic, which is designed to help pupils break the smoking habit. It is being conducted by Dr. Osborne, the school physician, and Mrs. Mary Baker of the State Health Department.

At the first meeting, 16 students participated in a discussion concerning smoking in government. Each student filled out a questionnaire concerning his smoking habits and at future meetings will attempt to analyze his desire to smoke and discuss ways to eliminate it.

Subscriptions for "Regulus," the school year book, went on sale Tuesday, December 1. This year, led by editor Paul Rosenberg and assistant Barbara Wallace, the year book staff is trying to make its publication more meaningful to underclassmen as well as to seniors.

Although the actual books will not be ready until June, the sale is taking place now to insure a copy to each of the subscribers. The total cost of the yearbook is $5.00. For students with activity tickets it is $4.00.

Another Newton South publication, "Letus," is also getting underway. It is a literary magazine devoted to creative writing and is the newest of South's publications. Now in its third year, it appears that it will

Hanukkah To Have Display At Newton Library

A special Hanukkah display prepared by Dr. Martin Goldstein, educational director of the Religious School of Temple Emanuel, will be shown this week in the Newton Free Library, 414 Centre St., Newton.

Hanukkah is one of the most joyous of Jewish festivals, dating back to the time of the victory of the Maccabees over the Syrians. After ridding the temple of the enemy, it was cleansed and the sacred menorah or candelabra, rekindled. Even though the supply of oil was only sufficient for one day, it continued to burn for the full eight days of celebration. This "miracle" has been celebrated ever since with the lighting of the menorah candles in homes and temples. There are games for children and the exchange of gifts.

Dr. Goldstein has graphically explained the history and significance of Hanukkah with illustrations and examples. Several beautiful menorahs add interest and variety.

Troop 867, Newton Lower Falls Brownies, had an investiture ceremony, followed by a party for Scouts and their mothers, recently in the Lower Falls Library. The third grade Brownies conducted the flag ceremony for their 11 newly-invested sister Scouts of the second grade. Mrs. Nunzio Piselli welcomed the following girls to the troop: Caren Barry, Caren Arsenault, Diane Hill, Susan Wolfe, Mary Ellen Feeney, Laura Menelly, Valerie Harris, Janie Mosher, Amy Garoyan, Leila Keene and Susan Greenberg.

Two new Brownie troops, whose leaders are Mrs. Richard Silverman and Mrs. Norman White of Waban, have been formed for the second grade girls from Angier School. Both of these troops will meet on Wednesdays at 3:30 p.m. at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban. This is "Brownie Day" in Waban because Mrs. Norman Aronson's Troop 846 of third grade girls also meet at the same time.

The who, what, where, why and how of good news copy will be taught to Bay Path Colonial Girl Scouts in Scribes' Workshops, in three different locations, on Saturday, Dec. 5, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon.

Byron Southworth, newly-appointed General Manager of Allen Chevrolet Inc., on the Providence Highway in Dedham, brings to his new post more than 20 years of experience in the automobile industry.

He spent some 15 years with the Chrysler Corporation, eight of which was on the executive staff, six years with the Ford Motor Company, and for two years prior to joining Allen Chevrolet, operated Byron's Buick in Needham. Most of Mr. Southworth's career in the industry has been in the field of dealer operations and investments.

Recently Mr. Southworth announced he had resigned as president and general manager of Byron's Buick and had withdrawn from the firm in favor of Frederick O. J. Muzi and William Cammaro, both of Muzi Ford City. While in Needham he became a member of the Exchange Club.

The new Allen Chevrolet general manager is a native of Michigan and attended the University of Detroit for two years. He has traveled all over the U. S. and while at Lake Placid, N. Y., was pres-

80-61 Win For Junior College Over Emerson

Chris Wood pumped in 31 points and grabbed 27 rebounds in leading Newton Junior College to an 80-61 basketball upset verdict over arch rival Emerson College last week at the Newton High gym.

The victory, first over Emerson in five years, gave first year mentor George Ruggiero his initial coaching victory. With Wood hitting from the inside, Newton Junior College jumped out to a 38-27 half-time advantage, but after eight minutes into the second half, Emerson pulled within three points 45-42, with Paul Horowitz hooping three straight baskets for Emerson.

At this point, Ruggiero inserted back court ace Bruce Gregory, who immediately sparked his teammates with several steals and an electrifying fast break, giving the Newton quintet a safe fifteen point lead.

Defense played an important part in the victory as the Newton five did not allow Emerson a single basket from the inside while scoring 24 points from close in themselves.

Winner of only five league games in the last two years, the NJC quintet looms as the Cinderella team of the league with a new breed look.

Ruggiero promised several surprises for the other league teams after the opening game victory. The only word of advice we can offer is: Watch out for Newton Junior College.

LOCKER ROOM CHIT-CHAT — Captain John Cox scored 14 points, hitting 50 per cent of his shots in the second half. . . . Kevin Maloney and Jerry Ready assisted Wood in the rebound department, pulling off 11 and 10 rebounds respectively. . . . Tony Goldman was the leading scorer for Emerson, with 20 points, 18 from the free throw line. . . . Chris Wood hit on 14 of his 24 shots for a 58 per cent shooting average. . . . Leo Judge of Newton Junior College is in his second year as President of the Greater Boston Small College Conference. . . . Judge was honored at a league banquet last May for an outstanding job in his first year as

Human Relations Need Is Stressed

The report of an intensive study of Newton's human relations, conducted by the Newton Community Council during the past several months, was released today by Council President, Mrs. Irene K. Thresher.

The study, undertaken at the request of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, to evaluate the present need for activity in the human relations field, has been submitted to the Mayor for his consideration.

Recommendations include the establishment of a new 9-member Community Relations Commission appointed by the Mayor with the approval of the Board of Aldermen.

The purpose of the Commission, as stated in the proposed new ordinance, shall be to promote understanding among all persons and groups of different races, colors, religious, national origins, or ancestries, to advise and assist the Mayor and to cooperate with interested citizens and with public and private agencies to create better communication among all residents of Newton.

An Advisory Board to this Commission has also been recommended which would be composed of representatives of various community organizations.

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Political Stakes Seen High For Volpe In Next 2 Years

Several leading Democrats already are mapping plans for a gubernatorial run in 1966 even though Edward Peabody has not yet taken his lonely walk down the State House steps and John A. Volpe has not begun his second term on Beacon Hill.

Everything indicates that the fight for the Democratic nomination for Governor will get off to its earliest start in the State's history.

The explanation is that the Governorship suddenly has become a much more attractive position, and men who were not especially interested in serving as Governor in the past now are having second thoughts on the matter.

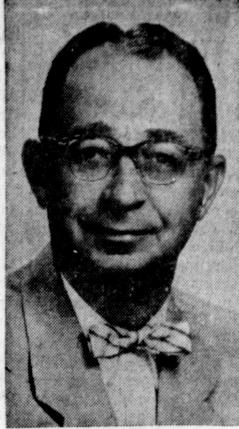

The Governor elected in 1966 will go into office for a four-year term and will have that period in which to put his programs into effect.

BERNARD ROBERTS

Roberts Is Elected To Third Term

Bernard Roberts was re-elected to a third term as president of the Newton Taxpayers Association at the annual meeting held last week. He is president of St. Paul Construction Company.

Willard C. Bodge and Steward G. Orr were re-elected vice presidents; Donald P. Frail, treasurer, and Warren G. Reed, clerk.

Directors for the coming year were elected as follows: Harry G. Anderson, Jr., Alexander S. Beal, Willard C. Bodge, Thomas W. Casey, Donald B. Conant, Charles E. Dockser, Bertram A. Drucker, Archibald I. Feinberg, John D. Fox, Donald P. Frail, Nissie Grossman, Bartlett Harwood, Jr., Henry L. Johnson, Jr., Warren D. Oliver, Warren D. Oliver, Stewart G. Orr, Norman S. Rab, Warren G. Reed, Bernard A. Riemer, Bernard Roberts and Roger P. Sonnabend.

Gibbs Will Not Seek Fourth Term As Mayor

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, who has served as Newton's chief municipal executive for the past five years, announced today that he will not be a candidate for a fourth term in next November's city election.

Gibbs declared that he intends to return to private business at the close of his present term which runs through Dec. 31 of next year.

Swift developments following in the wake of Mayor Gibbs' statement indicated that Alderman William Carmen and City Clerk Monte G. Basbas will be the opponents in a fight for the right to serve as Newton's next Mayor.

The mayoralty campaign in which Carmen and Basbas will be the adversaries may get away to the earliest start in the city's history.

Gibbs' sudden pronouncement that he is now serving his last term as Newton's Mayor came as a surprise.

While it was known that he was deliberating on the possibility of retiring from office, it was expected that he would not make his final decision until some time next month.

Expressions of regret came from many leading Newton citizens when they were informed of the announcement by the highly respected Gibbs.

In his statement disclosing that he will not stand for another term as Mayor, Gibbs said:

"As many people are inquiring whether I will be a candidate for reelection to the office of Mayor of Newton, it seems expedient to clear the air in this regard."

"It is my intention to return to private business at the expiration of this current term, December 31, 1965. I will not be a candidate for reelection."

"May I thank the citizens of Newton for their support and cooperation during the last five years. Collectively, we have maintained steady progress towards a better community and an expansion of the rich heritage that has been handed to us. In the year ahead I will continue to press for the adoption of our program which was our guideline of accomplishment established at the beginning of this term."

"As a city, we still face many problems in the years ahead, for with continued growth and increasing demands for new or expanded services, municipal government becomes more com-

Medic-Alert Drive Wins Plaque Award

Newton men and this community figured prominently in the awarding on December 2nd of the famed Louis Dublin National Public Service Award for 1964 to the Boston Life Underwriters Association.

Senator Leverett Saltonstall was the principal speaker, and told the assembled insurance men, doctors and civic leaders about the individual citizen's responsibilities in good government.

The award was given for "Project Lifeguard," sponsored Medic-Alert at a dinner and ceremonies held at the Dorothy Quincy Suite in the John Hancock Building. U.S. Senator Leverett Saltonstall, a former Newton Alderman, was principal speaker.

Sumner Rodman, CLU, president of the BLUA, is a Newton resident, and served as a member of the executive committee for the project. C. Robinson Fish III, CLU, vice-president of BLUA and a Waban resident, was chairman of the campaign. H. Ladd Plumley, former President of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and president of the State Mutual Life Assurance Company of America, represented the Institute of Life Insurance.

A veteran Curtis employee, Mr. Hueston joined the publishing company in 1923, and has most recently served as administrative assistant to the Chairman of the company.

Demolition Ahead For Fire Station

With the approval of Mayor Donald L. Gibbs, the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority took over the Newton Corner fire station last Monday morning and, so far as the Mayor knows, it is to be torn down.

On Friday, Dec. 18, the city should receive from the Authority a check in payment for the property, the Mayor said. It will be in the amount of $235,000, less a small amount to cover the cost of insurance on the station the Authority had paid prior to acquiring it.

It was the second of two Newton fire stations taken for the toll road extension. The old Station 2, West Newton

Hockey Team In Saturday Loop Opener

A Newton High School hockey team, which has high hopes of winning the GBH championship, plays its first league game of the season when it meets Somerville High at the Boston Arena on Saturday afternoon.

The Tigers lost a non-league game to Exeter Academy 5-4 last week, but the Tigers showed a great promise in the losing effort.

As Coach Sarge Kinlin observed, Newton looked good as a team at times, and its defense was as strong as expected.

Kinlin is predicting a first division finish for his charges. Less conservative observers think the Tigers may go all the way.

Newton lost Dick Valle, outstanding defenseman, as well as center Billy Werner through graduation.

But it has some talented players in Jeff McLaughlin, George Mecham, Dick and Bob Toomey, Kenny Welch, and others.

On the whole, Dr. Overholt believes that communities and alumni are not as responsible as they ought to be in the modern world, and that most universities are still operating as if they were in the cultural context of the pre-World War I era.

Dr. Overholt points out that in the "old" world the resources of power and complexity of social issues could be easily related to "small-town, puritan virtues." The modern world has transformed all this, and the universities have not yet adjusted.

"The universities are not training the kind of social leadership needed in the new world, because they cling to a rationale of existence which is no longer related to social reality," he claims.

To meet the challenge of the modern world, Dr. Overholt suggests three far-reaching, yet simple, changes. First, the university must alter its value orientation from neutral to positive. In every country Dr. Overholt visited, he found that the primary motivation for university students was their own socio-economic development.

The university, he feels, must strive to lead the students in finding the social responsibility and value commitments that they must possess when they enter the professional world. "Bluntly speaking, this selfish socio-economic motivation is not adequate in modern society," says Dr. Overholt. "The university can no longer ignore its responsibility at this point."

Secondly, the intellectual must assume a far greater responsibility for the quality of culture than he does today, the theologian states. "What kind of a community will we have if the educated citizen sees no important difference between rock 'n' roll and good music; between prize fighting and Shakespeare; and between strip-tease and ballet? The educated person must seek to create a culture in which preferred qualities have priority."

Finally, Dr. Overholt suggests that the university of today must establish a community in which social responsibility is in the forefront at all times. "This basically is the responsibility of the individual university teacher," he says.

During his visit to India, Dr. Overholt was told by Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, President of India, who is himself a renowned university scholar and teacher, that "the most important source of commitment and motivation for students is the enthusiastic vitality of the university faculty."

Dr. Overholt concludes, "My visits to universities in 20 different nations during the past four years, including trip to the Soviet Union in 1961, confirms the obvious fact that the university is an enormously significant institution in modern society. However, this experience also suggests that the university must make some rapid changes if this influence is going to continue."

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs

Newton for the past five years has remained one of the best governed communities in Massachusetts and throughout the nation.

A major share of the credit for that belongs to Mayor Donald L. Gibbs who has headed Newton's municipal government since New Year's Day in 1960.

That is why so many people will express regret at the decision by Mayor Gibbs that he will not seek another term as Newton's chief municipal executive.

Everyone in Newton has not agreed with everything Mr. Gibbs has done as Mayor.

This is true any time a Mayor must make hard decisions, and Mayor Gibbs has made many hard decisions during the five years he has headed the city government.

Yet, it is fair to say that Mayor Gibbs has tried to see that each decision was in the best interests of a majority of the citizens of Newton.

Even the Mayor's severest critics must concede that he has succeeded in doing that much more often than he has failed.

A Mayor in a city such as Newton must decide which improvements it can afford to undertake, which it cannot afford to undertake and which it cannot afford NOT to undertake.

He must try to achieve some sort of reasonable balance between groups of citizens with conflicting views. He must endeavor to be fair with municipal employees and at the same time with the taxpayers who must pay the bills.

The hardest thing a Mayor must do is to say "No," when that is the answer he considers to be in the best interests of a majority of the citizens. Mayor Gibbs has said "No" many times.

What has stood out about Mayor Gibbs has been his sturdy integrity, his readiness to fight for his own honest convictions, his willingness to do battle for his city even when he is being blasted from many sides, as he was in the toll road controversy.

Because of his courage and determination he won some 19 concessions for Newton from the Turnpike Authority.

He has been and is being criticized for not providing more money for the construction of new schools. Yet, he has had better attendance records at School Committee meetings than any Mayor in the history of the city.

Mayor Gibbs has reduced the city's debt about $5 million and greatly strengthened its financial standing. He cut the tax rate both this year and last although it's unlikely he will be able to do so next year.

He has made a number of changes which have improved the operation of the municipal government, including the establishment of a Traffic Commission and Election Commission. Under him an urban renewal and rehabilitation program was launched.

Two housing projects for elderly persons in need circumstances have been completed, and construction is about to start on a third.

This is just a tiny portion of the five-year record Donald L. Gibbs has made as Mayor. He has not done enough to satisfy some people; he has done too much to satisfy others.

But one thing about Donald L. Gibbs is that no one can justly challenge his sincerity of purpose. That in itself is quite a tribute.

Drivers Are Responsible

The responsibility for chain-reaction accidents such as those which littered Route 128 recently, causing two deaths and many injuries, rests with the drivers, the drivers.

This was the opinion of state and local police and public safety officials after investigating the bizarre series of collisions.

Route 128 is a high speed highway, multi-laned north and south. Travelling it safely in a motor car requires a certain kind of skill in driving, constant awareness and exercise of caution.

It is a highway regularly traveled by Newtonites and many of them are appalled at the sights they see and the incidents they encounter while driving along it.

Regular, veteran drivers on Route 128 are chilled almost daily at the evidences of inept automobile operation on a high speed thoroughfare. The alertness of the skilled driver often has been the agency by which serious accidents have been averted brought on by the nit-wit.

The heedless manipulator of the wheel makes no concessions to weather changes. He throttles his car and roars along come sunshine, rain, or snow, sleet or fog. This kind of driving is irresponsible, irrational and foolish.

State police and public safety officials were quite severe in their appraisal of the kind of driving responsible for the fog-bound horror enacted on Route 128.

Possibly, license tests of the future might include several miles of driving an automobile along one of our high-speed roadways. Certainly in-town operation is an entirely different problem from the one confronting the man or woman at the wheel on the super roads.

Peculiarly enough, these are wide, well constructed driving areas with no intersections. Yet the accident and death rate mounts along these roads. Inattention to the traffic flow, too much speed and tail-gating usually accounting for most of the accidents and fatalities.

ing and road conditions also can be fatal to car and driver. There must be an awareness of the current situation and an alertness to any problems ahead if life is to be safe along the high-speed highways. The Route 128 incidents were an awesome example of what can—and did—happen.

Be Kind Today

I must work the works of Him who sent me, while it is day; the night cometh when no man can work—John 9:4.

The urgent admonition of Henry Drummond, the noted English author and evangelist, to practice benevolence should inspire a prompt and ready response in every true Christian. Thus he wrote:

Basketball Date For Local Highs Tuesday

Newton High School's basketball team, which has won one game and lost one to date, meets Newton South High on the latter's home court at 3:15 next Tuesday afternoon.

The Tigers last week defeated Belmont High 50-40 but bowed to Exeter Academy 85-60.

Dan Martell, a 6-5 forward, and Marty Swartz, a 5-7 guard, paced the Newton attack against Belmont, with Martell scoring 20 points and Swartz 18.

Centre Mike Ohlson had seven points but played an important role in the Tiger victory as he came off the boards with 15 rebounds.

Newton actually appeared to be more than 10 points better than Belmont. Midway through the final period the Tigers led by 18 points but then let up, and Belmont narrowed the gap.

Newton High Coach Al Fortune was not overly impressed by the showing of his pupils and expressed the opinion that they are capable of better basketball.

Jimmy Hollicker was the high scorer in the game with Exeter as he chalked up 19 points, seven of them from the foul line. Martell tallied 17 votes and Swartz 11.

Newton battled Exeter to a standstill in the first period, trailed by only four points at half-time but then ran out of steam in the last two periods.

Local Kiddies Entertain At Fernald School

Thomas Boylan, 15, student at Newton High School, kept his audience enthralled with his outstanding performance of his hand puppet show consisting of 3 puppets based on popular fairy legends.

These talented youngsters received a warm and enthusiastic applause from their genuinely grateful audience. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gaffin, of Newton Centre, were in charge of arrangements. Also assisting was Mrs. Norman Stiller of Newtonville.

PUPPETEER AND FRIENDS — Mrs. Paul J. Boylan and some of her famed puppets to be featured at the meeting tomorrow, Friday, Dec. 11, at the Newton Centre Woman's Club.

Women Alumnae Of B.U. Crash All-Male Club

For the first time since its formation 18 years ago, the Boston University Club of Boston this year held its meetings open to women alumnae of the University, according to Joseph Barresi, Club president.

The feminine sex, heretofore represented only once a year by a Valentine "Sweetheart" at February meetings, were very much in evidence when the formerly all-male organization gathered yesterday, Wednesday, December 9, at the Golden Dome Restaurant, Boston.

Dr. Isaac Asimov of West Newton, associate professor of biochemistry at the University's School of Medicine, addressed the alumni and alumnae on the subject, "Breakthroughs in Science."

Other speakers and their subjects at remaining monthly meetings this year will be: Dr. John S. Fielden, Dean of the University's College of Business Administration, speaking on "Business Education in the 1960's," January 6; Dr. Gerald S. Hawkins, professor of astronomy at the University and Director of the Boston University Observatory, "Splendor in the Sky," February 10; Joseph S. Slavet, Executive Director of Action for Better Community Development, "New Frontiers for the Underprivileged," March 3, and Dr. William O. Brown, Director of the University's African Studies Center, "Africa is Terrific," April 14.

Medical Center Names Three To Trustees Board

Prominent local residents have been elected to the board of trustees of the Children's Hospital Medical Center at the annual meeting held at the Parker House.

They are: Gordon F. Bloom, of West Newton, president of Elm Farm Foods; F. Gorham Brigham, Jr., of West Newton, vice president of the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company; and Loren White, of Chestnut Hill, owner of Clark & White, Inc.

Yule Program Of Puppets To Be Held Friday

"Christmas at My Fingertips" will be presented by Mrs. Paul J. Boylan, puppeteer, at the December meeting of the Newton Centre Woman's Club tomorrow, Friday, December 11, at 2:30 p.m. at the clubhouse.

The coffee and social hour at 1 p.m. will be in charge of Mrs. Thomas F. Donnelly and Mrs. Anthony Leone, hostesses. At 2 p.m. the monthly business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Stanton J. TenBroek, Jr., president of the club. Receptionists will be Mrs. Gertrude H. Ropes and Miss Marie C. Ulmer. Mrs. Gustave R. Breitzke will give the devotions.

The program at 2:30 will be introduced by Mrs. Stanford D. Blitzer, chairman of the program committee. Mrs. Boylan, a club member, is not only an author, the writer and producer of the musical plays put on by "The Young Newton Players" who are currently traveling in a series of dramatic concerts, but is also president of the New England Chapter of the Puppeteers of America.

She is the producer of "Sarah Crewe" and "The House on North Square," which were sponsored in 1963 and 1964 by the club, and which have since been played before various groups throughout New England. "Christmas at My Fingertips" has been written for the club members, and will be presented for the first time at the Friday meeting.

Church To Hold Advent Vesper Service Sunday

Dr. Robert W. Huston and J. R. Matthews, ministers of the Newtonville Methodist Church, will lead an Advent vesper service as the church on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, at 4 o'clock.

The worship hour will include hymns by the congregation and scripture readings, poetry and traditional stories by the ministers. Featured will be a performance of Bach's Cantata No. 150 by the church choir and assisting instrumentalists conducted by Miss Alice M. Jenkins, the church's musical director.

The choir includes Mrs. Mason Hartman, soprano soloist; Miss Florence Cobb, Miss Betty Livingston, Mrs. Stephen MacGregor and Mrs. Albert Newell, sopranos; Mrs. Warren Bechtold, Mrs. Robert Huston, Mrs. Edward Pleuer, Miss Edith Stevens and Mrs. Clarence White, altos; Philip Livingston and David McAvaney, tenors, and Warren Bechtold, Richard Hill, William Holst and Howard Krugler, basses.

The instrumentalists will be Mrs. Elizabeth Ray and Dr. Charles Emerson, violinists; Miss Janet Thorndike, cellist; John Morgenstern, flutist, and Bradford DeVos, bassoonist.

The cantata is scored for violins, cellos, bassoon, cembalo, organ and the usual four-part mixed choir, with soprano solo.

Miss Jenkins is studying for her doctorate in music at Boston University. Originally from Indiana, she has been associated with the Newtonville Methodist Church since 1962.

Red Cross Blood Collections Help Replenish Bank

Members of the Newton Teachers Association, 109 in number, made blood donations last week, when the Red Cross Bloodmobile was at the Beethoven School in Waban.

It was enough to insure all members full coverage of their blood needs for a year, for themselves and their immediate families—a new record.

Added to the teachers were 78 Newton residents, making the total for the day 187 donors. All received a key chain with a plastic medallion bearing a Red Cross "Blood Donor" identification.

Since July, Newton Chapter has received 1314 donors at the several Bloodmobile stops. Almost 350 of these came from industrial plants.

The Boston blood center reports a critical shortage, and so a special Bloodmobile visit will be made Monday, Dec. 21, at Needham Hotel 128, just over the Newton Highlands line. The site is available to other communities around Newton, so it is likely that a generous supply may be added to the blood bank to last over the Christmas and New Year holidays.

The feminine sex, heretofore represented only once a year by a Valentine "Sweetheart" at February meetings, were very much in evidence when the formerly all-male organization gathered yesterday, Wednesday, December 9, at the Golden Dome Restaurant, Boston.

God's Perpetual Care For Man Science Theme

God's perpetual care for man in all facets of his life will be the theme at Christian Science services this Sunday. The Bible lesson is titled "God the Preserver of Man."

Golden text: "The Lord is my rock, and my fortress, and my deliverer; my God, my strength, in whom I will trust; my buckler, and the horn of my salvation, and my high tower" (Ps. 18:2).

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include these lines: "We shall obey and warring no more over corporeality, but rejoicing in love Him understandingly" (p. 140).

Christmas Open House At Jackson Homestead

Christmas Open House at the Jackson Homestead, 527 Washington St., Newton, on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 13, from 2 to 5 o'clock, will have "Holly and Mistletoe" for its theme.

The old Nursery will be transformed into a busy room of last minute preparations for Christmas, such as the Jackson family might have made a century ago.

There will be festoons of laurel, a table of wrappings, old Christmas cards and books, toys, stockings at the fireplace, and a tree covered with handmade decorations, cookies, strings of popcorn and cranberries, and hand-dipped candles in their very old holders.

"Mother" will be there in a green velvet gown, a recent gift of Mrs. William M. Paxton of Newton Centre, whose husband was the famous Boston portrait painter. Exhibits co-chairmen, Mrs. Orin E. Skinner and Mrs. Ralph E. Keyes, are responsible for this charming, nostalgic setting. Incidentally, this is the 90th Open House in 12 years, with nearly 15,000 visitors attending!

Mrs. Earle D. Wood, president of the "Friends," will greet everyone at the front door, and Camp Fire Girls Mary Costa and Carol Wallace, dressed in costume, will all who join in the festivities.

Pay Of Jurors

Edward J. Sullivan, Clerk of the Courts, Middlesex County, has filed at the State House a bill to increase the compensation of jurors from $10 to $15 and that of jurors impanelled on capital cases from $12 to $17 for each day's service.

This measure was filed as a result of a three year study of citizens called to serve on juries. Mr. Sullivan finds that the $10 stipend works an undue hardship with salary loss of family men who are not compensated by their employers while performing this important civic duty.

The bill will be given an early hearing before the Committee on Judiciary in the 1965 session of the Legislature.

HIGHLIGHTS

Newton can and will meet this challenge."

Gibbs first won election as Mayor in 1959 when he defeated former Alderman Leo Cannon and former State Alcoholic Beverages Control

Commissioner Norman Moore. He was reelected without opposition in 1961 and 1963.

Before becoming Mayor he served four years as a State Senator, three years as a member of the House of Representatives and nine years as a member of the Board of Aldermen.

Gibbs succeeded Christian A. Herter, Jr., in the House of Representatives and Richard Lee in the State Senate.

Mayor Gibbs can point to an impressive list of accomplishments during the five years he has headed Newton's city government. He has introduced a number of innovations in his efforts to improve municipal operations.

Newton's debt has been reduced about $5 million during his stewardship.

In 1963 he halted the upward climb of Newton's tax rate and reduced the rate 60 cents. This year he cut the tax rate another $3.40 following a revaluation of all residential property in the city.

Plans have been completed and construction will start in the near future on a vitally needed proposed new $2 million municipal incinerator.

Municipal employees have been given a pay raise during each of the five years Mayor Gibbs has been in office. A survey of employee salaries was made by professional consultants in 1961 and 1963 and job classifications were established.

Under Mayor Gibbs the Peabody Home was taken over by the city and converted into a school for retarded children.

A committee Gibbs appointed has recommended the construction of a swimming pool on the Albemarle Playground in Newtontown. That project will be undertaken during the coming year.

While Gibbs has been in office, the Newton Junior College was expanded, updated and accredited, and Gibbs worked out a plan so that at least 85 percent of the students would be Newton residents.

One of his important steps during the construction of the toll road extension was the establishment of a relocation bureau to assist families who were being displaced by the new highway.

A substantial saving was achieved by the consolidation of the West Newton, Auburndale and Waban fire stations and the establishment of a new firehouse at Commonwealth Ave. and Washington St.

Mayor Gibbs is 60 years old, and he has resided in Newton for 52 of those 60 years. He resides at 9 Wesley St., Newton Centre. He was educated in the Newton schools, graduated from Newton High School in 1922 and from Bryant & Stratton School.

He is a former vice president of the Kendall Paper Co., has been treasurer and director of other companies, is presently a director of the Newton National Bank and a trustee of the West Newton Savings Bank. Active in numerous charitable endeavors back through the years, Gibbs is a past vice president of the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross.

Alderman Carmen and City Clerk Basbas, who are expected to battle it out for the office Gibbs will vacate at the end of next year, are both well known in Newton.

Carmen, who resides at 48 Philmore Rd., Newton, is the Alderman from Ward 7 and the unpaid chairman of the Newton Housing Authority.

He served this year as Newton chairman of both the United Fund drive and the Jewish Philanthropies drive.

A graduate of the Boston University College of Business Administration, Carmen is married and the father of three children. He is a naval veteran of World War II.

Basbas has been Newton's city clerk for 11 years and before that was assistant city clerk for three years, making a total of 14 years he has served in the city clerk's office.

He is a graduate of Dartmouth College and Boston University Law School and is an attorney.

A combat pilot of World War II, Basbas holds the Distinguished Flying Cross. He is married and the father of three children. His home is at 178 Kirkstall Rd., Newtonville.

USNR Group Is Trophy Winner

U. S. Naval Reserve Company 1-25, comprising 20 educators, businessmen, students and a Catholic priest, has won the Commandant's Trophy for highest efficiency.

Commander Benjamin M. Perles, U.S.N.R., of 38 Everett St., Newton Centre, is the group's membership officer.

The primary responsibility of Group 1-25 is constantly to scrutinize and evaluate enlisted reservist instruction at various surface and submarine units in the First Naval District.

Having won, the group is again in competition and fighting for another first in 1965.

Judge Yesley Temple Speaker

Julian L. Yesley, presiding justice of the Newton District Court, will discuss the progress being made in the area of Judo-Christian relationship at a meeting of Temple Mishkan Tefila Brotherhood, Hammond Pond Pkwy., Chestnut Hill, on Sunday, Dec. 13.

The regular daily service will be held at 8 a.m., followed by the Brotherhood breakfast at 9 o'clock.

Recreation Department Sets Schedule For Fall And Winter

A comprehensive fall and winter schedule of varied activity has been set up, according to an announcement by Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney.

Prof. Hirsch Attends N.Y. Arts Seminar

Boston University Prof. Samuel Hirsch of Newton was a participant in the Moscow Art Theater's seminars on the Stanislavsky method held in New York recently at the United Nations Plaza.

Mr. Hirsch, associate professor of Theater Arts at Boston University School of Fine and Applied Arts, attended the invitational seminar on November 23, 24, and 25.

The Stanislavsky method, which originated in the Moscow Art Theater in 1898, was explained by Victor Manuykov, a leading Russian director and teacher; Vladimir Prokofyev, historian and theoretician; and Angelina Stepanova and Vasily Toporkov, both designated Honored People's Actors of the U. S. S. R.

The Institute of International Education brought the seminars to New York, underwritten by the American Council of Learned Societies and with U. S. State Department cooperation. Actress-teacher Stella Adler instigated the symposium as a result of a visit to the Moscow Art Theater last year.

Are You Tired Of Wasting Money On 10-Minute Toys?

THIS PROBLEM IS SIMPLY SOLVED. Be sure the gifts you give this Christmas offer more enduring fun and, at the same time, contribute to development of the child's mind. Just as baseball, tennis and other sports help build healthy bodies so can properly selected items for creative leisure help develop fertile minds through the formative years, all contributing to building "a sound mind in a sound body."

Each day can be filled with the thrill of discovery, the wonder of fresh understanding when a child recreates a tiny, but tangible, part of this world with his own hands and mind. Experimenting, seeing the results right before his eyes, can give him a basis of knowledge to help build his own life constructively and, in turn, help fashion a better life for others.

Political Highlights

He will be able to place his own hand-picked choices in key posts in the State government without worrying about getting the approval of the Executive Council.

The salary of the Governor has been raised from $20,000 to $35,000 annually, effective at the start of the New Year.

A Governor in the future will have increased power and greater responsibility to go with it.

This appears to be resulting in a rush of big-name Democrats seeking the right to run as their party's candidate for Governor in 1966.

The man who emerges as the victor from this scramble undoubtedly will meet John A. Volpe in the final election campaign. No one can foretell at this stage how strong a standard bearer Volpe will be for the GOP in '66. He hasn't even begun to make the record on which he will be running.

One safe forecast which can be made is that the next two years will be critical ones in the political life of Governor-elect Volpe and that the stakes will be extremely high for him in the '66 election.

If Volpe is able to clean up some help for the hard-pressed financial mess in which the cities and towns and keep even State is now mired, provide a portion of the pledges he made in his campaign, he will be a tough adversary for any Democrat 22 months from now.

If Volpe wins reelection to a four-year term in '66, he will be an extremely potent contender for the Republican Vice Presidential nomination in 1968. If he is defeated in 1966, his public career will be ended.

As a Republican Governor in a basically Democratic State, Volpe would be a logical choice for a place on the GOP national ticket. He also has managed to maintain friendly relations with the two warring wings of the Republican party and presumably would be acceptable to either.

It's not inconceivable that Volpe could wind up as his party's nominee for the Presidency itself in 1968.

Volpe, of course, will be confronted with staggering problems when he assumes the direction of the State government on Jan. 7. And he will need the help of an overwhelmingly Democratic Legislature to solve them.

As Representative John J. Toomey, chairman of the House ways and means committee, bluntly pointed out, the State will go bankrupt next year unless new taxes are enacted to produce additional revenue.

Volpe will propose the adoption of a limited sales tax. Whether he will be able to persuade a Democratic Legislature to approve one is uncertain. He will be unable to carry out his program without a sales tax.

The State House lobbyist for the AFL-CIO already has taken a public stand against a sales tax which presumably means that organization will fight against Volpe's recommendation when he submits it to the Legislature.

That opposition may be somewhat short-sighted since Massachusetts will not be able to attract new industries to provide additional jobs unless relief is furnished to the cities and towns to enable them to check their soaring tax rates.

Nobody wants to pay more taxes. Legislators don't like to vote for new or higher taxes.

But the State government is now facing a financial crisis, and the incoming Legislature will have no alternative but to take steps to meet that crisis.

Exactly what those steps will be and whether the Legislature will provide any assistance for the local communities are the big questions which the coming legislative session will answer.

Many legislators would prefer to raise the State income taxes rather than adopt a sales tax.

In a sense that is somewhat strange because the massive margin by which a proposed graduated State income tax was rejected in 1962 indicated there is much more public opposition to a big jump in income taxes than to a sales tax.

It would require a terrific increase in the State income tax levy to produce anywhere near the amount of money the Commonwealth itself needs. A sales tax is about the only way the State could get enough revenue to provide the assistance for the cities and towns which Volpe promised in his campaign.

There is no real evidence whatever that the sales tax is the bugaboo many politicians believe it to be.

Francis X. Bellotti tried without success to use the sales tax as an issue against Volpe in their recent campaign. In doing so, Bellotti left himself open to the charge that he was not facing up to the problems confronting the Commonwealth.

The sales tax was the overriding issue in the 1959 Boston mayoralty battle between John F. Collins and John E. Powers. Collins favored a sales tax. Powers opposed one. Collins won the election in a stunning upset.

As far as this writer has been able to ascertain, no legislator ever has been defeated for re-election because he voted for a sales tax.

Kevin White's Bill Puzzles Politics

A lot of politicians are taking a long, hard look at a proposal by Secretary of State Kevin H. White that the law be changed so that the Democratic and Republican State Conventions would be held during the last two weeks of July instead of the middle of June.

Most politicos can't quite decide whether the change suggested by White would increase or minimize the importance of the two conventions.

White's objective is to reduce the length of the campaigns. His plan, however, might do just the reverse if it were adopted.

In order to assure himself of a place on the September primary ballot, a candidate for state-wide office would be obliged to obtain 5000 valid signatures of registered voters in his party in advance of the State Convention if White's bill were enacted.

A majority of the top office-seekers probably would do exactly that to protect themselves.

This would mean that at the State Convention the major candidates would be fighting for prestige and first place on the September ballot.

Neither the Democratic voters nor the Democratic politicians have shown much disposition to abide by the decisions of their party's State Conventions.

Six Democratic State Conventions have been held since the pre-primary convention system of endorsing candidates was revived in 1954.

At least one candidate victorious at each of those conventions was defeated in the subsequent primary.

The most recent public figure to join that select club was Governor Endicott Peabody.

In 1960 it was Foster Furcolo. In 1962 it was James R. Lawton who was endorsed for Attorney General by the State Convention but was bumped out in the primary by Francis E. Kelly.

So the actions of the Democratic State Conventions have been a little less than sacred as far as the Democratic voters are concerned.

It would be a great thing for the eardrums of the average voter if some way could be found

Music Center Now Located In New Store

The "Keyboard Music Center," formerly "The Keyboard," a piano and organ store in Newton Center has expanded into a new location in a beautiful store at Chestnut Hill, Route 9, 200 Boylston Street next to the Stop and Shop.

Here in these new and much larger quarters with free and easy parking The Keyboard Music Center is featuring musical instruments, guitars, drums, musical accessories, sheet music, gifts, and teaching studios in most instruments. All the above are in addition to the Keyboard's beautiful line of Baldwin pianos and organs.

A gala opening week festival features free entertainment nightly; Sat. afternoon, Dec 12 at 2 p.m. the famous "Surprise Strummers," Banjo Band will appear in person; a gift with each purchase of musical merchandise over $5.00; a free lamp and a chance to win a $1,000 player piano with each new Baldwin piano or organ sold; and a free drawing for a new guitar.

Also, The Keyboard Music Center plans to hold noonday concerts open to the public as well as a weekly organ open house one night a week.

President of the new Keyboard Music Center is Syd Borofsky, a former athlete, coach and professional musician who lives close by in Oak Hill, Newton.

Assisting him in the new venture will be many well known professional musicians and teachers in this area including Mrs. Eleanor Sweeley, an organist, also a resident of Newton. Mr. Borofsky's wife, Frances, and their son Jon are well known in the field of art.

to shorten political campaigning.

But as long as candidates try to get out early and campaign, they'll do it in one way or other, and no laws can be devised to prevent them from doing so.

It is somewhat strange that no responsible public official has advocated the abolition of the State Conventions in Massachusetts.

Alert Campaign of its own after the Boston endeavor. The pattern fell rapidly into place, thanks to the immediate comprehension of its value by Mayor Gibbs and other civic leaders.

Its purpose is to prevent, through the Medic Alert Emblems, tragic, even fatal mistakes in the course of administering aid to those persons with allergies and afflictions.

Newton men figured prominently in the original campaign, and the city of Newton was the first to begin a Medic

Alert Campaign of its own after the Boston endeavor. The pattern fell rapidly into place, thanks to the immediate comprehension of its value by Mayor Gibbs and other civic leaders.

This basic city-wide plan for bringing out knowledge of Medic Alert has, in the short span of one year, been copied in over 175 cities and towns in the United States by life underwriters and other groups acting in cooperation with medical leaders and civic officials. In 1960 C. Robinson Fish 3rd.

Ask Mr. Fish and the Com-

C.L.U. of Waban was searching for a way to prevent his son from being given a routine injection he should not have. Mr. and Mrs. Fish were shocked to find there was no universal method to prevent this. This, then, accounted for the death of people unable to say they were allergic to penicillin or other drugs, the loss of eyesight from not having contact lenses removed in hospitals because no one knew they were being worn, precious time lost while a diabetic received the wrong treatment or occasionally was mistaken for a drunken person.

Among Newton men acmittee researched this, it presented itself as a possibility for the finest public service the Boston Life Underwriters Association could hope to offer.

Apparently laymen, medical leaders, civic officials, civil defense and law enforcement officers all realized the time had arrived for some universal, simple, lifesaving plan; one that all personnel dealing with emergency treatment would quickly approve, and whose recognition could be taught to all. Medic Alert provided the best answer for general use.

This again was a "first" for Newton, as surrounding communities, applauding Newton's action, did the same. Dr. Philip Lecompte, pathologist at the Faulkner Hospital, became a member of the Medical Advisory Board. Dr. Robert Hamlin, of Harvard Public Health, also joined the Board and contributed much to the original effort. Justin Horan enlisted Newton Chamber of Commerce cooperation.

Chief of Police Philip Purcell took an active stand with Safety Director Gilbert Chapman, and the Force was alerted for recognition of the Medic Alert Emblems. The Fire Department aided in distribution of the applications to convenient points in Newton. Dr. Jonathan Morrison served as a member of the Medical Advisory Board. Daniel Braude and Lario J. Balboni both served as directors on the insurance executive committee.

William Brines, Director of the Newton-Wellesley Hospital, rapidly installed the Medic Alert information in his hospital, and has made available applications for lay people or physicians who request them. The emergency room personnel is particularly alert for the emblem on an incoming patient as is the rest of the staff.

Mr. Brines has contributed some valuable suggestions that have been incorporated into material going to hospital administrators at their request.

Warren R. Sisson M.D., Chestnut Hill, past president of the American Academy of Pediatrics, served as a member of the original Medical Advisory Board and is a member of the National Medical Advisory Board of Medic Alert.

Joseph A. Craven Jr. O.D. serves on the Medical Advisory Board, representing the Massachusetts Society of Optometrists of which he is the president, and this group is taking an active role.

It is believed that many citizens of Newton themselves have been responsible for seeding Medic Alert campaigns in other parts of the United States by sending applications to a family member or friend (with a medical problem) who, in turn, interests his local health officials or civic groups in bringing this information to the community.

For those who wish applications or further information, it may be obtained from PROJ-LIFEGUARD; P.O. Box 311, Boston 17, Massachusetts.

VISITING NURSE — Miss Eleanor L. Slubin, a 1964 graduate of the Boston College School of Nursing, has been associated with the staff of the Newton Visiting Nurse Association since August of this year. She works in the Auburndale and Newton Lower Falls areas. Miss Slubin is a member of the American Nurses Association.

Randall W. Weeks, also of Newton, and Director of Alumnae Affairs at Boston University, served as master of ceremonies for the evening.

ITS MORE THAN A FLAT PAINT -- ITS FAMOUS VINYL RESIN COMBINES THE ADVANTAGES OF LATEX PAINT WITH THE FEEL AND WET EDGE RETENTION OF OIL BASED PAINTS.

An interior flat wall finish. We like to call it a flat wall finish rather than flat wall paint. When applied you'll just love its look — its feel under the brush, the beautiful colors. It washes like latex — keeps a wet edge retention like an oil paint. Brushes and hands clean easily in soap and water.

An Informed Citizen

A column written and prepared by the League of Women Voters of Newton and devoted to the principle that an informed citizen is a good citizen.

Many students need scholarship help to pay the $400 tuition, but few scholarships are presently available. The College is also in need of all sorts of "extras" which interested donors might enjoy providing. The great need, of course, is for a campus which all Newton could point to with pride. Only the City of Newton can decide to make this possible. The League of Women Voters of Newton has already urged the City to do so. We hope other Newton citizens will join us in this request.

Charity Aid By Student Nurses

Student nurses at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale, held "an old-fashioned auction" Monday at Winslow Hall, on the Lasell campus to raise money for their favorite charities.

Foods, old furniture, kitchenware and hand-knit articles were displayed, with merchandise sold through periodic auctions every hour on the hour.

Proceeds were to go partly to the Lasell Building Fund, and to support the Korean Foster Child adopted by the nurses as a group. In addition, the students hoped to raise enough money to send two delegates to the National Student Nurses' Convention.

Miss Katherine Steinmetz, president of the Lasell Nurses' Ass'n, was in charge of the affair, aided by Miss Judith Barden, faculty advisor.

It lacked only evidence of Newton's interest and adequate physical facilities to become the first accredited public junior college in New England. Up until that time, the Junior College had not only cost the City of Newton nothing (figured over a number of years) but was returning to the General Fund of the City a fair too substantial net profit to justify the educational non-profit classification.

Since American democratic society is committed to public education and since higher education is increasingly a must for all who can benefit by it, it was quite clear to League members that no person should be deprived of the opportunity to become a productive citizen because of financial incapacity or other special difficulties which a junior college is uniquely set up to help solve.

The League therefore wholeheartedly agreed that Newton could not afford to lose its junior college and that its excellence deserved encouragement, attention, and support. Last year Newton Junior College did achieve the honor of accreditation by the regional accrediting agency. This was due to the increase in public interest, and enough of an increase in support by the City to add the minimum physical plant necessary to meet the Agency's standards, at least temporarily.

A renovated College Hall is now the scene for the increasingly well-received Art and Music Series which began this year with a Fall concert by the Nova Arte Trio. These events are free of charge and open to the public.

They offer a high level of artistic performance in our own community, easily accessible to young and old alike who find traveling into Boston inconvenient and expensive. The next concert will be given by Claudia Lindsey, nationally known soprano, on Wednesday, Dec. 16.

Newton residents are urged to take advantage of this cultural opportunity and to become acquainted with the Newton Junior College, what it is doing, and what it would like to do for Newton.

Tomatoes, Greenhouse — Prices should ease off this week; quality excellent.

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT — If you thought cactus grew only in the South West, Lou Webster of the Dept. of Agriculture brings the surprising information that hundreds of thousands of cactus are grown annually in Massachusetts — in greenhouses. Most popular are the tiny cacti that may be grown in small pots and kept in any sort of a warm place.

Incidentally, one of the first greenhouses in this country was built in Waltham in the 18th century. George Washington is reported to have visited it with the idea of building something similar at Mt. Vernon.

The new roadway, being built from Eliot Circle, Cambridge, to Arsenal street, Watertown, will be named for the late Charles W. Greenough who served as chairman and associate commissioner of the M.D.C.

MRS. IRVING GALE

ORT Center Is Aiding People Of Low Income

Women's American ORT helps man help himself... Located at 21 Prospect street in Cambridge is ORT's Value Center. Mrs. Irving Gale, Newton, Regional Value Center Chairman states that local, low income people are able to purchase quality merchandise at substantial savings.

Students and their families look to the Value Center as a need. One particular member of the merchant marine, living locally married to a Moroccan woman, shops frequently in ORT's Value Center for merchandise to send to Morocco. ORT, through the profits in the store also sends aid to Morocco through the three ORT schools in Casablanca.

Mrs. Arthur Polimer, Sharpen, regional president of Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation through Training) states that Value Center provides 50 per cent of region assignment to take care of all overseas projects. There are 46,000 students annually enrolled in 22 countries on 5 continents in ORT schools. There are new apprenticeship centers at the John F. Kennedy Apprenticeship Center in Israel. ORT carries on President Johnson's fight against poverty here in Cambridge as well as all over the globe.

ORT members bring to the Value Center saleable merchandise, both old and new. They willingly pick up goods all over the region, work as stock men, saleswomen, fitters for one important goal... converting dollars to teaching a skill for a dependent person, bringing him dignity.

Support Urged For $1,750,000 Program

School Building Plan OK'd By Mayor, Board

An agreement has been reached between Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and the members of the School Committee for the committee, urged support of a $1,750,000 school building program proposed on a school construction plan for next year.

This was disclosed at Monday night's School Board meeting when Chairman Haskell C. Freedman, speaking under the priorities designed by Mayor Gibbs

for school construction in 1965, $1 million would be spent for a new Burr School, $350,000 for an addition to the Lincoln-Elliot School, $150,000 for an addition to the Hyde School and $250,000 for an addition to the Carr School and $150,000 for a Hyde School addition.

Construction of a new Bigelow Junior High School would be delayed until 1966 or 1967, but an architect will be appointed in the reasonably near future to continue the preliminary work on that project.

That Mayor Gibbs and the School Committee members have resolved their differences and reached a peace pact was apparent almost as soon as Chairman Freedman began to speak at Monday night's School Board session:

Said Chairman Freedman: "I personally feel, and I trust the School Committee agrees, that the letter of Mayor Gibbs to the Board of Aldermen, dated Dec. 7, requesting no action on a previous request by the Mayor for a bond issue of $2,075,000, and instead stating his plan to request a bond authorization for $1,700,000, satisfactorily resolves the recent differences of opinion between the Mayor and the School Committee with respect to the school building program,

The annual December Musicals of the combined orchestras and wind ensembles of Newton High and Newton South High Schools will be presented tomorrow, Friday, evening, December 18, at 8 o'clock in the Newton High School auditorium.

It will be held in conjunction with the girls' choir, Madrigal Singers, and A Capella Choir of Newton High, under the direction of Donald March, Peter Cobb, David Kaplan and Miss

Hockey Title Rides On Saturday's Game

Newton High School's hopes of winning the Greater Boston Hockey League championship will rise or fall depending on the outcome of the game this Saturday with Arlington High.

Arlington is the defending league and State tournament champion.

In the opening GBI League games last Saturday Newton defeated Somerville High, 6-1, and Arlington bested Cambridge Latin, 8-0.

Newton and Arlington face off at 12:30 at the Boston Arena Saturday afternoon, and the outcome of their encounter will provide answers to some of the questions hockey enthusiasts have been asking.

Mr. Deutschmann, a well known security analyst, has previously been a vice-president and director of D. S. Maran & Co., investment bankers and members of the New York Stock Exchange.

Mr. Deutschmann is the son of Dr. Arnold Deutschmann of 157 Woodliffe Rd., Newton.

He attended Williston Academy in East Hampton, and Tufts College where he received a B.A. in history in 1954. He was a member of the junior varsity tennis team and the Alpha Epsilon fraternity at Tufts. He was graduated from Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration with an M.B.A. in 1956. He served with the U. S. Marines from 1950 through 1952.

Mr. Deutschmann, his wife, the former Mary Ann Balaban Carp of Chicago and St. Louis, and their one child, Bryce, age 4, reside in New York City.

Dick Toomey should establish an all-time Newton hockey-scoring record before the present ice season is concluded.

The existing Newton record of 62 points for a schoolboy career was set by Terry Mac-

Even with three goals between them, the crack Toomey - MacLaughlin - McChem line did not have one of its better days. Newton High supporters are hoping the trio will explode against Arlington Saturday afternoon when the stakes will be high and the competition stern.

Tourism is one of the five divisions in the new Commerce Department reorganization law.

Sawyer, a Suffolk Law School graduate and World War II Navy veteran began an auto rental business in 1952 and now operates one of the few wholly-owned Avis franchises in the country. His firm now has a rental fleet of about 1,000 cars and 100 trucks.

His father, Frank Sawyer, is owner of Checker Taxi Co. The new deputy commissioner, who holds a law degree but has never practiced, began as assistant to his father. Before the war, he was a Chrysler-Plymouth dealer.

Sawyer, whose hobby is tourist development, heads the American Sightseeing Company. He is a past president of the Sightseeing Association, a national organization.

Last year, he served as chairman of the New England Council's Vacation Travel Committee and as a trustee of the New England Exhibit at the World's Fair in New York.

He is the father of two children. His son is a senior at Holy Cross College. His daughter is married and has one child.

Contact for contributions or offers of storage places for food may be made through Mark Lender, BI 4-3048 or Stephen Kaufman, DE 2-4243.

Needed are vegetable seeds and well-packed dried goods, rice, flour, sugar, cornmeal, oatmeal, canned fish and peanut butter. Liquids, perishables and canned or refrigerated foods cannot be accepted.

Co-operation on the part of local firms and individuals made the Santa Mail Box installation possible.

Lumber for the mail-box was furnished by the Roy S. Edward Lumber Co. Hardware was donated by the Massachusetts Hardware Co. The mailbox was painted by the Traffic Department of the City of Newton.

The mailbox was built by Francis Bennett, woodworking instructor at the Newton Boys' Club. Assisting in the placing of the mailbox were Sam Proia, John Neely, Steve Casell and Pat Proia.

Sees Better Year Ahead For Newton South 11

The return of eight offensive starters, including halfbacks Joe Manfredi and Mike Nathanson, and fullback John Passerini encourages Coach George Winkler of the Newton South football team to expect a reversal of the 1964 Lions' form next season.

Said Winkler: "This will be the most experienced group back since I've been coaching Newton South High. We feel we shouldn't make the costly mistakes next year that gave us the first losing season in five years. We have the nucleus of a fine ball team."

Only three starters are due for graduation prior to next year's opening, quarterback Ted Clarke, left end Tom Lopez and right guard Joe Fiore.

Filling Clarke's shoes is of some concern to Winkler. In '64, Clarke completed 50 per cent of his passes for 480 yards and nine touchdowns.

Injuries and costly errors were responsible for South's rather poor showing in '64. "When we made a mistake it cost us six points — not a first down or possession, but six points. Every mistake we made came back to haunt us," said Winkler.

A Rare And Unique Season

If there is one time of year when the milk of human kindness gushes up and flows more copiously it is at this the season of approaching Christmas.

Those who experience no unusual kindling of the heart, no closer affinity with their fellowman, are hard-shell, hopeless cases. We are sorry for them.

This is a busy and joyous period, a hurly-burly time of preparation for the holidays ahead. But there is a certain aura of mysticism synonymous with the Season of Lights. Many people experience it in spite of themselves. Sort of subliminal spirituality.

Professed introverts, looking inward throughout the year and wrapped in themselves, often than out to the degree of accepting their contemporaries on the human scene at the Christmas season. Those with icicle hearts and peanut personalities have been swept along on the happy holiday tide and enjoyed the snug harbor of warm human relations, if only briefly.

Yes, it is a rare and unique season, gay with brilliant lights. They glow against the dark and cold winter nights. The holly and greens revive the spirit of life and living things amid the desolate death of the wintertime. The little child is king as the happiness and holiness of Christmas revolves around him, carrying in a whirl the adult satellites.

Santa Claus and the reindeer, the traditional scenes associated with Christmas, color the flashing panorama.

But all fade into pastel backdrops against the mighty and blazing significance of the day, the Birth of the Babe at Bethlehem.

The humble and ancient tableau, the Holy Family, the mute animals, awe-struck shepherds from the hills, and the pomp and pageantry of visiting kings from afar; all silently adoring.

From this cave dug into a hill has sprung the mountain of faith, and hope and holiness which has sustained and glorified the Christmas story through the ages.

So, let the carols be sung and the Christmas bells be rung. Hang the holly and greens and mistletoe. Join the bustle and crush and be part of a rapturous time. Shout Ho, Ho, Ho, with a legion of Santas, and warm to the gleam in a youngster's eyes. It's a marvelous time to be human and to have a heart; if you open it and let in the world.

Santa Has Combat Fatigue

Rumors sifting out of some of the larger cities at this time might indicate that Santa Claus, department store and street corner with bell, variety, is on the way to extinction.

According to the mistletoe-vine, many of the old boys who annually masquerade as jolly St. Nicks, are finding the work too arduous.

Apparently it isn't all one big merry Ho, Ho, Ho, with the gentlemen who put on the white whiskers and red suits and are on view during the Christmas season. Those Santas who must meet the onrush of the kids in stores are finding the going particularly rugged.

Many of today's young cherubs do not approach the awesome figure in red, wearing the flowing hirsute adornment, with the respect shown by yesterday's small fry. These kids are tough and try to take it out on Santa for last year's under-tree disappointments.

One brazen small boy remonstrated with Santa over his failure to bring a big cannon last year. "Ho, Ho, Ho," roared Santa. "You be a good little boy and maybe we will bring you that big cannon this year."

"Oh, yeah," says the kid, "well, maybe this'll help ya to remember." And he kicked Santa in the shins. Only one of many such incidents being reported by combat-fatigued Santas, who want out of the service.

The department store Kris Kringle say they approach each new kid like a potential time bomb; maybe this is a nice, well-behaved youngster who likes Santa and shows it. On the other hand, the kid may be as treacherous as a mine field. He may let go with a kick, punch, pinch or yank at the whiskers.

We are quite certain that all the little boys and girls from Newton who are taken by their parents for their mystic rendezvous with Santa Claus are very polite and respectful to the old boy. They will be rewarded a hundred-fold come Christmas morning.

But those other mean little kids, who live in cities other than Newton, had better cultivate a more respectful approach to the patient Santa in the department store. He may fight back in self defense. Or he may get out of the Kris Kringle business altogether.

Yes, the casualty lists are growing in the ranks of the Santas. The kids are giving the red coats a tougher time than did the Colonials at Lexington and Concord.

What Is Christmas?

Editor of The Graphic:

We have just observed Thanksgiving Day in which we gave thanks to Almighty God for our blessings in this great country of ours. Now we are awaiting one of the greatest feasts of the year, Christmas. Do we prepare and observe it the right way?

Christmas is too commercialized in this country. In some homes the true meaning of the day is lost. What do you see during this holiday? The stores crowded with people who are loaded with bundles of all kinds. Stores trying to outsell the other on toys, clothes, etc. It is just like ordinary over crowded shopping days. The people are too busy gift shopping and bringing the children to see Santa Claus, also busy decorating the Christmas tree where Santa Claus is going to leave the gifts etc. Many Christmas parties are held with Santa Claus as the main attraction. People do not have time to prepare themselves with holiness for the coming of the Baby Jesus. For the people who think all of this shopping is a pleasure why not let it be after Christmas like other countries do.

You ask a child what Christmas means and he or she will answer that it is the day that Santa Claus comes to bring toys, games, etc. What happens on Christmas morning? In most homes the family run to the Christmas tree to see what Santa has left them; they spend hours opening gifts and children play all day with their toys.

In other countries Christmas is highly celebrated as the day that the Infant Jesus was born. If you ask a child what Christmas means he or she will answer that it is the birthday of Baby Jesus. They celebrate the day with prayers, reverence, and adoration. To express their happiness, they have a feast (which in some places lasts for days); they also have fancy foods, home made pastry and other special things that they do not have every day.

Gifts are given to the children, not on Christmas Day but on the 6th of January which is about 12 days after. In this way they do not mix the birthday of Jesus with the day of gifts. By this, Christmas Day is kept with the true meaning of what the day represents and helps adults and children to remember it with holiness in their hearts.

Try to bring out the true meaning of Christmas by preparing and observing it the right way. Show and teach our younger generation that Christmas is a holy and a glorious feast day.

Miss Doris T. Federico.

Two Named By Mayor To Fill Vacancies

Coming before the Board of Aldermen Monday, Dec. 21, are two appointments to fill vacancies. Mayor Gibbs has named Dr. Ray Jones, 186 Park street, Newton, to succeed Leonard Kaplan as a member of the Board of Public Welfare. Mr. Kaplan resigned Sept. 4 because he was moving to Cambridge. Bernard Roberts, 514 Dudley road, Newton Centre, was named to fill the unexpired term of the late Frederic A. Hawkins as a member of the Board of Appeals.

Other matters which may come up for action are appropriations for acceptance under the Betterment Act of two streets. The director of public works has requested $28,100 for the acceptance of Leverett road, Newton Centre, and $2800 for acceptance of Roslyn road, Waban.

But those other mean little kids, who live in cities other than Newton, had better cultivate a more respectful approach to the patient Santa in the department store. He may fight back in self defense. Or he may get out of the Kris Kringle business altogether.

Yes, the casualty lists are growing in the ranks of the Santas. The kids are giving the red coats a tougher time than did the Colonials at Lexington and Concord.

The bell ringers will present, "Come All Ye Shepherds," "We Three Kings," "Angels We Have Heard," and "First Noel."

In the evening there will be the annual carol sing to shut-in members of the church at 5:30 p.m. The singers will return to the church at 7:30 for the All Church Christmas Party which will include decorating a big tree, a "birthday cake for Jesus," and a film, "The Littlest Angel."

Puritan Christmas Ban Portrayed By Students

The faculty and students of Mt. Ida Junior College marked the coming of Christmas in a most unusual way this year. They did not celebrate at all!

According to their Puritan ancestors, "the keeping of Christmas" was specifically forbidden and punishable by a fine of five shillings — as stated in a law passed in the Massachusetts Bay Colony in 1646.

The students donned Puritan costumes and enacted the trial of Mistress Sara Goodfellow, a fictitious lady who had been accused of the crime of indulging in the festivities of Christmas.

The proceedings were conducted in strict observance of Puritan customs — even to meting out the punishment of having her sit in the pillory for a full day. The old law citing the crime of celebrating Christmas was read again.

The program was prepared by the library staff for their annual Christmas presentation. An exhibit of Puritan artifacts from the Plimoth Plantation on display in the main reading room of the library featured many articles of daily living in the early settlement.

Students from other parts of the country attending Mt. Ida were given an opportunity to see the possessions of the early settlers of New England.

The first escalator was exhibited at Paris Exposition in France in 1900, then returned to the U. S. and installed in Gimble Brothers in Philadelphia.

The M.D.C. operates 12 swimming pools in the Boston metropolitan area and 2 more will be in operation for the 1965 summer season.

It's still going to be a long time before TB can be considered a chapter of past history. The effective control of some other respiratory diseases is even farther away. The fight against them can only be successful if all of us — and that does mean you — give generous support to the Christmas Seal appeal.

Entries For Naval Track Meet Close This Friday

All School boys must have entries signed by their coach, faculty manager, or principal.

distinction will be crystal clear.

But there are even better reasons for remembering that your holiday mail isn't complete without a liberal application of this kind of decor.

One is the reminder Christmas Seals bring to all beholders that this isn't just a season of unanimous fun and well-being, but also a time to help others! The other reason why lavish use of Christmas Seals is important is a thoroughly practical one: the more of them you use and the greater your contribution to the Christmas Seal association, the more will be accomplished in the determined effort to protect people against tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases.

As many people have been finding out to their regret,

it's still going to be a long time before TB can be considered a chapter of past history. The effective control of some other respiratory diseases is even farther away. The fight against them can only be successful if all of us — and that does mean you — give generous support to the Christmas Seal appeal.

Victim of the affair was Mrs. Eleanor Kosow of 200 Bald Path Hill Rd., Oak Hill, who reported the loss of jewelry worth approximately $65,000.

At police headquarters Mrs. Kosow picked Frank E. Imburgia of East Boston, former manager of a Boston cocktail lounge, out of a line-up, declaring him to be one of the trio that forced her into her own car near a Newton Centre beauty salon, threw a pillow case over her head, taped her hands and legs, and drove her about a mile. During the ride, she said, she was threatened with a knife to prevent her from shouting for help.

At Lee Rd. and Acacia Ave., Chestnut Hill, the bandits took from her a 19-carat diamond ring valued at $600, a $2500 wedding ring, a $1500 mink coat, two $300 bracelets a $395 alligator bag and $300 in cash.

Mrs. Kosow is the wife of a Boston finance company president.

The handbag snatch was made in Segal's Dress Shop, 833 Beacon St., Newton Centre. The bag of the owner, Mrs. Doris Segal was one of three taken. It contained $4000. A ring and $200 were

Safety For Pedestrians In December

December is the most dangerous month of the year for pedestrians, the American Automobile Association warned today.

In still another robbery, the home of Mrs. Ruth Dorfman, 15 Lorna Rd., Newton Centre, was entered and included in the loot was her $2000 pair of earrings.

"Early darkness, decreased visibility, bad weather, winter driving hazards, the excitement of the holiday season, and driving — all these conspire to make the traffic accident rate go up," said Richard W. Hoover, Safety Director for AAA's Massachusetts Division. "This is a particularly hazardous time for children."

To alert children to the increased traffic dangers, a new AAA safety poster is now on display in Massachusetts schools with the slogan "Be Extra Alert in Bad Weather."

Patrolman Paul J. Fitzsimmons was making an early morning check of doors when he spied a pair of men trying to force a cellar door in Colliers' Cafe, 41 Needham St., Newton Highlands.

He gave chase and fired two warning shots, but the men fled across the railroad tracks toward Elliot St. when the officer slipped on a patch of ice and went down.

Later, he was treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital for chest contusions.

Christmas Now Pagan Festival Charges Rector

"Christmas has become another pagan festival, as merchants merge commercialism and Christ," declares Newton clergyman.

"The Christmas story," said the Rev. William E. Foley, Rector of the Episcopal Church of the Good Shepherd in Waban, "tells us that God became a human being to save us from ourselves and to show us that life is more than merchandise. But the Christian Church, by its sentimentalization of the birth of Jesus and watered-down theology, has given over the power of Christmas to the purveyors of profit."

"As long as the clergy continue," he said, "to encumber the Christmas narrative with idyllic pictures of an abnormally pretty child born on a warm, starlit night, then we shall remain so weighted down by nostalgia that rising to a higher life will have become well-nigh impossible."

"And," Mr. Foley added, "instead of bringing gifts to Jesus, our secular wise men will continue to carry Christ to the cash register."

Papal Blessing Bestowed at Erickson-Fitzpatrick Bridal

Now making their home in Newton are Mr. Robert W. Erickson and his bride, the former Miss Maureen E. Fitzpatrick, who were married recently at Our Lady Help of Christians Church in Newton.

Mrs. Andrew F. Fitzpatrick 4th, of 608 Watertown St., Newton, and the late Mr. Fitzpatrick and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Erickson of 238 Ash St., Waltham, are the couple's parents.

The Rev. Eugene Boyle performed the single-ring ceremony and read the Papal Blessing. A reception followed at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Watertown.

Mr. Eugene J. Fitzpatrick of North Providence, R. I., gave his sister in marriage. She wore a gown fashioned of silk organza over taffeta. The lace appliques on the front of her skirt and chapel-length train matched the fitted bodice. A Juliet headpiece was fastened with a fingertip illusion veil. She carried her prayer book topped with white orchids and stephanotis.

Miss Barbara MacLean of Newton was maid of honor. Mrs. Eugene J. Fitzpatrick of North Providence, R. I., sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Nancy Forbes of Waltham were bridesmaids.

The best man was the bridegroom's brother, Frederick Erickson of Stow. Ushering were James Veiking of Waltham, cousin of the groom, and Robert Forbes, also of Waltham.

The couple spent their honeymoon in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands.

The bride, a graduate of the Sacred Heart School for Girls in Providence, R. I., attended Our Lady of Fatima School of Nursing.

Mr. Erickson, a graduate of Waltham High School, served with the Navy.

Hints On How To Lessen Winter Damage To Trees

Every winter many fine shade trees are mutilated or destroyed by wind, snow and ice storms.

The mere weight of the snow that falls in a severe storm often is sufficient to cause extensive tree damage. Even more destructive is the storm that begins with a freezing rain and reaches its climax in winds of gale-like force. Such storms leave a tangled litter of broken branches and uprooted trees in lawns and streets.

Storm damage to shade trees can be prevented or minimized, according to the National Arborist Association, through judicious pruning, bracing and cabling, and use of fertilizer to encourage development of anchoring roots.

In pruning to reduce storm damage, the branch load should be lightened as much as possible without destroying the characteristic shape and beauty of the tree.

Braces and cables are used to strengthen structurally weak branches, most common of which are those that have developed from narrow-angled, V-shaped crotches. Branch crotches of this type are likely to split disastrously during wind storms or from the weight of accumulated snow and ice.

Treatment to prevent splitting generally consists of installing one or more sections of commercial tree screw-rods at the branch crotch.

To provide additional support, the branch is connected to other major branches or the main stem by cables placed in the upper part of the tree.

A shade tree firmly anchored by deep-growing, wide-spreading roots is less likely to be blown over in a storm than a tree of similar size with shallow, short roots. Thus, any root development tends to prevent storm damage of this nature.

Applications of fertilizer at regular intervals, usually annually, is one of the best methods of promoting tree root growth. The fertilizer material should be thoroughly distributed in the root zone, some 12 to 18 inches below the soil surface; this can be done by means of holes punched or drilled in the soil, or with a soil irrigating needle. Applications may be made at almost any time of year when soil conditions permit.

He is married to the former Marjorie A. Winer and they have three children.

Mr. Hugo is associated with the law firm of Goodwin, Procter and Hoar.

The bank also promoted George W. Arbuckle and David R. Donald to assistant vice president, F. Blake Cloonen to assistant treasurer and Mrs. Doris L. Bender and Miss Grace D. McDade to secretary of the corporation.

Frederick C. Ober was re-elected president, Frederick S. Bacon, Douglass B. Francis, Benjamin F. Louis and Arnold E. Worth as vice presidents and Arthur K. Wells as clerk of the corporation. John M. Tomb, Clifford H. Walker and Arthur K. Wells were reelected trustees for three years.

Reelected to the auditing committee were William H. Vogler of Wellesley, chairman; E. Graham Bates, 46 Central St., Auburndale, and Don J. Edwards of Weston.

At the meeting Mr. Ober reported that the total assets of the bank were over $147,700,000 of which over $105,800,000 has been loaned to more than 7,700 home owners and owners of business properties. The total amount of fully insured deposits is now over $130,700,000 owned by nearly 76,000 regular and school savings depositors.

The Surplus Funds protecting these deposits in addition to insurance is nearly $11,000,000. He also stated that the bank now has nearly $51,000,000 of Savings Bank Life Insurance in force and that the total amount in force in Massachusetts is now over one billion dollars.

Junior College Has Perfect Win Record

A balanced attack and a desire to be number one are two reasons the Newton Junior College Bears are in first place in the Greater Boston Small College Conference play with four straight victories.

After beating Emerson College in the opener, 80-61, the NJC five has beaten Bryant and Stratton in the game as Captain John Cox sprained his ankle and Ron Hartford fractured

College of Art. The team's desire was exemplified in the Bryant and Stratton game when Jerry Ready, recovering from a bout with tonsilitis, came off the bench in the second half to spark the team on to a 67-58 victory.

Two severe injuries were incurred in the game as Captain John Cox sprained his ankle and Ron Hartford fractured his wrist. Any other team might have been dismayed to lose two such prominent members, but Newton mentor, George Ruggiero, called on Garry Keil and Jim Lourie to replace Cox and Hartford for the Cambridge game, and both responded with superb exhibition to aid their teammates on to a 107-94 win.

Jerry Ready was immense in the game, scoring 21 points and pulling off 24 rebounds, most of them coming in the first half when the Newton Junior College outscored Cambridge 54-32. Nick Pasqua scored 28 and Chris Wood hit for 20 to buoy Ready's performance.

Bruce Gregory, Jim Lourie, Henry Gediman, Jerry Ready, and Chris Wood hit in double figures as the Bear quint beat Massachusetts College of Art 79-30.

The four straight victories represent the best start in NJC basketball history. Newton Junior College, a league patsy for the past few years, is developing into a league power. After four games, the Newton quint is making its presence felt. How far can this revitalized team go? Only time will tell.

Short notes: Captain John Cox will be back in action when NJC returns to action against Bryant and Stratton on January 7. . . . The old saying — statistics don't lie certainly proved true for the Bear five as they have outscored their opponents 84.3 to 60.8, and grabbed 20 more rebounds, 61-41. Their shooting average is a respectable 43 per cent and they have hit 61 per cent from the free throw line. . . . In the four games played, the NJC five has

Holiday Danger Spots Listed By National Safety Council

The highway and the home are the prime holiday danger spots, the National Safety Council emphasized today.

With just a few days remaining until the holiday season gets in full swing, the Council took a look at the record:

1. Thousands of persons injured in traffic and home accidents during the year-end holiday.

2. More accidental deaths in December than in any other month.

3. Holiday spirits — the kind found in a bottle — emerging as one of the big accident causes, especially on the highway.

The Council pointed out that drivers have a moral responsibility to keep themselves and others safe from accidents. When they cause an accident because of drink, it is said, they are guilty of violating a commandment.

Major holiday home hazards were listed by the Council as:

1. Slips and falls.
2. Fires.
3. The hustle-bustle of the season.

Falls, the Council said, are caused in a variety of ways — toys scattered around the house, using a chair instead of a stepladder to hang decorations, ice on steps and sidewalks.

The fire danger, said the Council, can be reduced if holiday decorations are fireproof or fire-resistant.

The decoration that deserves the most attention, it is said, is the Christmas tree itself. It suggested.

1. Don't buy your tree too early. When you do get it, keep it in a cold spot till ready to use.

2. Before setting up the tree, saw off about an inch of the trunk.

3. Keep the tree away from sources of heat (radiators, for example), and put its base in a water-containing holder.

Firmness is that admirable quality in ourselves that is merely stubbornness in others.

Approval of the petitions would result in a great increase in the density of the population in the area, Dr. Manning Feinleib of 248 Grove St. protested.

He contended that the street could not stand so great an increase in population and that intolerable conditions would result.

Others who spoke in opposition included R. Curtis Reid of 197 Grove St. and Richard A. Winslow of 20 Exeter St., West Newton, a trustee of the Lasell Junior College. Winslow recorded the junior college in opposition to the plan.

Others who spoke in opposition included R. Curtis Reid of 197 Grove St. and Richard A. Winslow of 20 Exeter St., West Newton, a trustee of the Lasell Junior College. Winslow recorded the junior college in opposition to the plan.

SERVICE HONORS TEMPLE PTA—A recent Friday night Sabbath service at Temple Shalom honored the Temple PTA, in the form of a Family Worship Service. In photo, left to right: Theodore Samet, Mrs. Theodore Samet, Rabbi Murray I. Rothman, Miss Linda Glazier, and Bernard Shulman, principal of religious school. Parents and children took part in the service with Rabbi Rothman and Principal Shulman.

Most every man knows his own business, but it is often difficult to make his neighbor believe it.

Parents Urged To Warn Children on Ice Danger

An appeal to Newton parents to caution their sons and daughters against either skating or playing on the Charles River, was made today by Mayor Donald L. Gibbs and Recreation Commissioner John B. Penney.

Gibbs and Penney declared that the Charles River rarely, if ever, is safe for skating, adding that the river just doesn't freeze tightly and deeply enough to warrant anyone venturing out onto the ice.

Their warning was issued after a seven-year-old Newton Highlands boy had been drowned in the Charles River in Needham while he and a friend were trying to rescue a dog which had run out onto the ice of the river.

Victim of the tragedy was Allen Bell, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Bell of 100 Upland Ave., Newton Highlands. The youngster's body was removed from the river by Needham SCUBA divers about an hour after he crashed through the thin ice.

Joshua Winer, 8-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Bertram Winer of 206 Upland Ave. narrowly escaped a similar fate. He saved himself by falling on his back when his boots filled with water.

With the help of an off-duty Needham fire-fighter he managed to get to the shore. His six-year-old brother Matthew had remained on shore. The dog also reached shore safely.

Police said the boys on bicycles and accompanied by the dog crossed the Charles River on the railroad trestle at Christina street, Newton Highlands.

What About Frankincense And Myrrh?

Gold has always been one of man's most treasured possessions; but what about frankincense and myrrh, the other substances which the Wise Men chose to offer as gifts to the infant Jesus? Why were they so highly valued?

Frankincense and myrrh are resins taken from trees and shrubs found on the dry rock-strewn hills of Somalia and southwestern Arabia. Peoples of antiquity used the two substances for a variety of purposes — for embalming and in cosmetics, perfumes, medicines, and incense.

Somalia is chief producer of frankincense, although some comes from Arabia. Most frankincense comes from a small shrub-like tree with a stout trunk and pale brown and yellow bark. Its flowers are grouped in slender clusters and the fragrance of the blossoms is discernable for a considerable distance.

The resin flows from natural fissures in the bark of the tree or from man-made incisions. It emerges as a whitish, viscous liquid that turns yellow and clings to the wound in the tree like tears. Every few days the resin is collected and the wound in the tree is freshened.

Ancient Arab traders introduced frankincense to many peoples. Today, the yellow tears and brown lumps of resin are sent to the seaport of Aden to be shipped to Europe, America, or Bombay.

Fire Victim Aids Welfare Fund

Another in a continuing series of letters expressing gratitude for the efficiency of the Newton Fire Department, has been received by Chief Frederick A. Perkins Jr.

This one, from Stuart F. Conrod of 40 Ridge Rd., Waban, was as follows:

"When Mrs. Conrod and I arrived home last Friday afternoon we were shocked to learn about the fire that occurred in our home earlier that morning, but were mighty thankful that our daughter and her companion got out of the house safely."

"Mrs. Conrod and I wish to thank and commend you and your men for your promptness in arriving at the scene and for the fine job you did in confining the fire to the one room and also for doing as little damage as possible to the premises."

"We were very glad that you were able to put out the fire with extinguishers with the result that we do not have any water damage. You did a real fine job in controlling the blaze and limiting the amount of damage."

"I think we got off lucky. It could have been much worse."

"I am enclosing a small check as a token of our appreciation and would appreciate it if you would give it to your welfare association."

Population Shifts

Washington — There will be more than 15 million persons over the age of 65 within the next five years in the U.S. and the total is expected to grow.

Air Friction

Chicago — On a long motor trip, the surface of a passenger automobile will become 0.6 degrees hotter because of air friction at speeds of 60 miles per hour.

Bus Needs

Detroit — About 25,000 new school buses will be needed in the U.S. each year for the next three to five years, according to enrollment gains.

trees of several species and most of it comes from Somalia. Some of the trees are from ten to thirty feet tall, other myrrh-producing plants are mere bushes.

Myrrh flows freely from a break in the bark of the tree or plant and is collected in brownish-yellow or red brown masses that may be as large as a hen's egg.

The ancients used myrrh in embalming; the Egyptians used it in the mummification process and Roman physicians prescribed myrrh in treatment of dropsy, earache, eye diseases, bladder stones, abscesses and broken heads.

Frankincense was chiefly used for incense, yet was an early ingredient in prescriptions for chest pain, hemorrhoids, hemorrages from the mouth and throat, broken heads, paralyzed limbs, bruises and ulcers.

International Xmas Theme At Martignetti's

Christmas International is the theme and flavor of Martignetti's huge selection of unusual and hard-to-find imported wines, cordials, liquors and liqueurs.

Martignetti Liquors, newly opened last month at 1650 Soldiers Field Road Extension, adjacent to the International Pancake House in Brighton, is described by owner Anthony Martignetti as "the most beautiful liquor store in the world," and he justifies this statement by pointing out the unique hexagonal shape of the building, the modern decor, highlighted by an indoor water fountain which has attracted much comment.

One of the main features of the store, aside from its physical attributes, is the year-round selection of imported wines, beers and cordials from a list of countries that sounds like the roll call at the U.N.

Because of this selection of unusual and distinctive wines, imported beers and cordials, Martignetti Liquors is prepared to serve the needs of all nationalities from all over Greater Boston and suburbs. Of course, there is a huge parking space for your convenience.

Political Highlights

Doherty, however, was the hand-picked choice of Senator Edward M. Kennedy. In supporting Peabody against Bellotti he did exactly the same thing as Ted Kennedy. If Ted had chosen to resist any efforts to oust Doherty, quite a battle would have flared.

All this never materialized. The election, which returned John A. Volpe a winner by a narrow margin in the struggle for the Governorship, left Bellotti merely a "lame duck" Lieutenant Governor in no position to apply the axe to Doherty or anyone else.

Ironically, Doherty, as head of the Democratic State Committee, went all-out for Bellotti in the gubernatorial campaign although he must have been aware of the reports that Bellotti would seek to fire him if he were elected.

That didn't cause Doherty to sulk or sit on his hands. He fulfilled his role as Democratic State Chairman and went down the line with Bellotti even though he had not supported Bellotti in the primary and presumably realized that a Bellotti victory might cost him his job.

Now Doherty, at Ted Kennedy's instructions, is undertaking to rebuild the Democratic party in Massachusetts and already has started a series of meetings with top Democratic leaders.

When Ted Kennedy returns to action after his vacation in Florida, he will undertake to pull together the Democratic party in Massachusetts which suffered a severe blow in the loss of the three top State Constitutional offices in the November election.

One of the things he will be obliged to do will be to raise some money for the Democratic State Committee which is now just about broke.

Ted presumably will have the aid of such influential Democrats as Speaker John W. McCormack, Boston Mayor John F. Collins, Senate President Maurice A. Donahue and former Attorney General Edward J. McCormack, Jr.

But Ted Kennedy will be the leader in the rebuilding effort.

relatively short period of time, however, he will be one of the most prominent public figures in the Commonwealth.

He is a graduate of Holy Cross College, St. Mary's High School in Milford and the Portia Law School, where he received his degree last year.

Davoren will be starting his sixth term and 11th year in the House when it convenes on Jan. 6.

He presided over the House as its Acting Speaker during the closing weeks of the 1964 session following the indictment of Thompson last May and won praise for the manner in which he directed the proceedings of the 240-member body.

One of the goals Davoren has set for himself is to improve the public image of the House of Representatives which certainly can stand a good deal of improvement.

The guessing is that Davoren will succeed in doing that when the members of the House of Representatives realize he means business.

Usually mild-mannered and almost self-effacing for a politician, Davoren can be and undoubtedly will be stern and unbending when the need arises, as it undoubtedly will during the coming legislative session.

Davoren will be a much different Speaker than was John F. (the Iron Duke) Thompson.

No measures will be gavelled or steamrollered through the House by Davoren. No bills will be killed in blitz fashion without the House members knowing what's happening and having an opportunity to vote on them.

A down-the-line Democrat, Davoren unquestionably will be scrupulously fair in his treatment of Republican House members. There'll be no attempt by him to prevent legitimate debate.

But like Maurice A. Donahue, who presides over the State Senate, Davoren is strictly a non-nonsense legislator, as he is certain to demonstrate after he assumes the role as head man in the House of Representatives.

Davoren will ask and seek the cooperation of the House members in his efforts to brighten the image of the body in which they serve.

Most House members are just as anxious as Davoren to have their legislative chamber attain higher repute and standing in the public eye. Their cooperation will be forthcoming at the outset of the session.

All Davoren really will be on is that the House members do what they're supposed to do and what they promise to do when they're campaigning for election.

The fact that electric voting machinery has been installed in the House chamber and will be used for the first time during the 1965 session will pose some problems for Davoren and for the rank and file members.

the members scurry to the State House from courtrooms, classrooms and business and professional offices all over Greater Boston.

It may take some members a few weeks to realize this. After they miss a few rollcalls, however, they'll come to an understanding of the situation.

The voters also will have an opportunity to determine which of their legislators really are on the job and which are some place else when they should be at the State House.

Political observers who have watched Davoren running the House as Acting Speaker expect that he'll do an even more efficient and workmanlike job when he has full powers and that he'll raise the dignity of the House.

Main Library Art Exhibits Of 'Y' Pupils

During this month of December, an exhibition of 22 paintings and drawings and a dozen examples of enamelling are being shown at the Main Library, Newton.

They are the work of students in adult education classes at the Newton Y.M.C.A. The pleasure enjoyed by the artists in making these works is apparent from their excellent results. Each is a personal expression of integrity, gained by an earnest approach to the problem coupled with coupled with considerable skill in use of tools.

Classes at the "Y" in drawing, painting and enamelling are cued to beginners as well as advanced amateurs. They are held on Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 with the advantage of a nursery for pre-schoolers and also on those same evenings from 8:00 to 10:00.

Those exhibiting in the Library's show are: Mona Alaimo, Carol Kanavos, Anthony Zeola, all of Newton; Louise Cook, Alvin Sadow, Rosalind Sadow, Fred Bernhard, Fay Aronson, of Newton Centre; Dorothy Shrier of Auburndale; Lujean Swanlund, Walter Simpson and Hope Berenzin of Waban; Claire Hurwitz of Newton Highlands; Ruth Frawley and Dorothy Street of West Newton; Clara Vassalotti of Newtonville, in drawing and painting. Enamelling exhibitors are: Joan Sklad, Ada Spivack and Mrs. John Jennings of Newton Centre; and Elizabeth Hinckley of Wayland.

Good Shepherd
Church Readys
Yule Programs

Plans are going forward at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Waban, for Christmas services with choirs and special music.

On Sunday, December 20th there will be a Service of Lessons and Carols. Besides the traditional carols, special anthems will be sung by the choirs of the church, featuring works by Britten, Bach, Holst, Franck and Shaw.

Between carols there will be appropriate Bible readings telling the story of man from the Fall in the Garden of Eden to his redemption through the birth and life of Jesus Christ.

On Christmas Eve, December 24th, there will be a special Midnight Service at 11:00 P.M. with a celebration of Holy Communion. On this occasion the choir will sing music by Peter Warlock and Nancy Plummer Faxon, a composer presently residing in Brookline, Massachusetts. The musical service will be that in D Major by Leo Sowerby. A wide selection of seasonal organ music will also be heard.

The musical activities of the church are directed by James Busby, organist and morning, at 10:30 a.m., there will be a simple celebration of Holy Communion by the Rector, the Reverend William E. Foley.

Ice-Glazed Roads
Cause Of Skids
And Injuries

Icy roads and consequent skidding were the cause of four out of five traffic accidents in Newton last Sunday.

One victim, Charles E. Shepard, 15 Maguire court, had to be removed by fire-fighters from his semi-submerged car when it skidded into the Charles River at Bridge street, Newton. He sustained head, nose and leg injuries.

Shortly before that mishap, a car operated by Roger C. Sidell, 132 Warren street, Newton Centre, skidded at Webster and Waltham streets, West Newton, and struck a pole. Treated at Newton-Wellesley Hospital were the operator and his two passengers, A Brookline and a Matsapan girl.

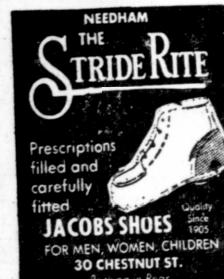

Ralph M. Leighton, 18 Ricker terrace, Auburndale, was treated at the hospital for facial injuries, suffered when his car skidded into a tree at 1630 Commonwealth avenue.

The fourth skidding episode involved a car driven by a Medford resident. It struck a stone wall at 1824 Commonwealth avenue, Auburndale.

Victim of the non-skid accident was Mary Conley of 425 Newtonville avenue, Newtonville, a pedestrian. She suffered head and back injuries when struck at Crafts and Washington streets, Newtonville, by a car reportedly operated by David P. Vito of 107 Newtonville avenue, Newton. Police transported her to the hospital.

WCTU Meeting

Newton Women's Temperance Union will hold its regular meeting Monday, Dec. 21, in the home of Mrs. Millie Beardsley, 108 Crescent street, Auburndale. It will be the annual Christmas meeting with a social hour and exchange of gifts.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

$945 Pay Raise Is Local Police Goal

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs is ed to make any comment publicly but expressed doubt that members of the Newton Police they would sanction a $945-a-year raise.

The Mayor told the Graphic last night he is reserving judgment on the matter and has not yet reached any decision.

He made it plain that he will recommend an increase for members of the police and fire departments but that he is not yet prepared to say just how large it will be.

Any proposal made by Mayor Gibbs is subject to review by the Board of Aldermen which has the authority to trim down the city's budget — a power it invariably exercises.

Several Aldermen, when queried on the matter, declin-

Carmen Favors Promptness In School Project

Alderman William Carmen declared last night that he favors the construction of both a new Burr School and a new Bigelow Junior High School as promptly as possible.

Several Aldermen, when queried on the matter, declin-

"there is no logical reason why both these school projects should not be undertaken in 1965 along with the additions and improvements to the Carr, Hyde and Lincoln-Elliott Schools."

"In fact," Carmen continued, "the longer the erection of a new Bigelow Junior High School is delayed, the more it will eventually cost the people of Newton since construction costs are climbing steadily."

Carmen emphasized that he is in complete agreement that a new Burr School should be built during the coming year.

He termed the present school "antiquated and obsolete" and said it should have been replaced long ago. "Newton children

Newton Girl Scouts Fete Roxbury Troop

The twenty-eight young members of Junior Girl Scout Troop 603 of West Newton played hostesses to thirty-four girls of Troop 171 of Roxbury at a gala party held last Wednesday night, December 16, in the Temple Shalom social hall, Temple St., West Newton.

Newton's hostess troop is part of the Baypath Colonial Council. Troop 171, sponsored by Rev. George Thomas of St. Mark's Congregational Church, Townsend St., Roxbury, is in the Trimount Council.

A casserole covered dish supper was served and folk dancing enjoyed at the inter-council event which was conducted from 5 to 8 p.m. Mrs. Mrs. MASS—(See Page 5)

Happy Christmas For Them

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dupuis and daughter, Diane, face a happier Christmas following successful open heart surgery given Diane. Newton blood donors gave an assist.

Newton Donors Help Open Heart Surgery

A 12-year old girl and her family will enjoy a genuinely merry Christmas this year because of the combination of great surgical skills and the innate generosity and willingness on the part of most human beings to help their fellowmen in trouble.

Joseph Dupuis works for Raytheon Mfg. Co in Newton. Employees at Raytheon have been very generous blood donors.

Sacred Heart College Mass Yule Feature

The students of Newton College of the Sacred Heart marked the Christmas season on campus with a special Mass yesterday, (Monday, Dec. 21) at 5 p.m. in the Chapel of the Most Blessed Trinity. The public was invited.

The Mass was a Christmas celebration in which the students manifest joy and union with the Church by giving to the poor. During the offertory, the students brought to the altar toys and clothing, thus restoring an ancient rite of the Church.

Two other unusual features of this Christmas celebration

POLITICAL HIGHLIGHTS

By JAMES G. COLBERT

Beacon Hill's Big Battle Of 1965 Seen on Sales Tax

What political history will be written in the New Year looms ahead?

There'll be no momentous elections such as were held in 1964.

Yet, events will occur and new laws will be adopted on Beacon Hill and Washington's Capitol Hill which will directly affect every citizen.

Indications are that a Medicare bill will be enacted by Congress.

On Beacon Hill the big battle of the year will be fought over a sales tax. At this time it's impossible to forecast its outcome although the odds will be against the sponsors of the proposal.

Baby 1965 will not be many months old before the members of the State Legislature vote themselves a new pay raise to replace the one the people took away from them in the November election.

Age-old Traditions To Highlight Yule Season

Christmas, 1964, will see one of the most joyous and gladdest Yuletide celebrations this community has known.

The soft strains of the ageless carols, the warm gleam of the colored lights herald the approach of the Birthday of the Babe Who was born in a drafty manger behind a crowded Bethlehem inn 1964 years ago.

Census Calls By Police To Start Jan. 2

A squad of 15 patrolmen under Capt. William F. Quinn and Lt. Albert Yanco will start Saturday, Jan. 2, on the annual police listing and decennial state census, Police Chief Philip Purcell announced last week.

Ten to 12 weeks will be required to complete the task, it was expected.

The men will be sworn in as assistant registrars of voters on Tuesday morning, Dec. 29, at 8:45 o'clock, and then will get instructions from Arthur G. Heaney, chairman of the Election Commission.

Calls will be made weekdays between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturdays will be devoted to return calls. If an officer fails to make contact with a family during regular hours or on a Saturday call-back, he will turn the cards

Jaywalk Law Is Effective On January 1

Newton's Jaywalk Law, passed by the Board of Aldermen last May, becomes effective on Friday, Jan. 1.

Violators will be fined $1 for their first three offenses, and $2 for each subsequent offense during the year. The fines are to be paid directly to the court within 21 days of being booked by a member of the police force.

The Newton ordinance provides:

"Pedestrians shall obey the directions of police officers directing traffic, and whenever there is a police officer directing traffic, a traffic control signal or a marked crosswalk within 300 feet of a pedestrian, no such pedestrian shall cross a way or roadway except at the direction of such police officer, or traffic signal or not within the limits of a marked crosswalk as hereinafter provided in this

LAW—(See Page 5)

Most of all the Day of Days will be marked by the gladness that dwells in the hearts of men for the joy, the hope and the promise which the Prince of Peace brought to earth.

Revered traditions which have come down through the sweep of the centuries—traditions which never grow old—are being followed once again this happy Yuletide season.

Christmas, 1964, will be different in many ways than it was in the "old days." Yet, in some respects it will be much the same. It is the oldest of the Christian holidays. Yet, it is always the newest, always the finest.

Smooth Flow Of Mail For Local Office

Christmas mail has flowed smoothly through the Newtonville post office this year, according to Timothy O'Neill, its superintendent.

"As yet there have been no noticeable peaks and valleys," he told The Graphic early this week. "However," he added, "mailings may have been slowed somewhat because of Sunday's storm."

Furthermore, the western train mail has not all arrived at this time, so until it reaches us we won't really know whether this year's volume is going to be greater or less than that of previous seasons."

The superintendent expressed the thought that the "mail early" appeal has reached receptive ears. It has been made annually over the years as the Yuletide approaches, and as the post office department "girds its loins" in an effort to prevent a last-minute rush. The steady flow of cards and gift packages this year, he said, is evidence that at last the message has taken hold.

Writer Spotlights Soviet Power Play

Dr. John Kosa of 35 Studio Road in Auburndale, research associate with the Child Health Division of The Children's Hospital Medical Center in Boston, is the author of the recently published book, "Two Generations of Soviet Man."

A sociologist, Dr. Kosa has written a study of the psychology of communism with particular focus on how Russia has imposed an alien political, social, and economic policy upon the people of seven European countries.

In paperback, the book was published November 13 by the College and University Press of New Haven, in collaboration with the University of North Carolina Press.

First printed two years ago in hardbound edition, the study has two main themes, Dr. Kosa said. One is that communism is something like whiskers, couldn't grow a secular religion, and the real beard if "he" tried in second deals with the manipulators.

Actually, this Santa Claus was from the distaff side and was portrayed by Kathleen R. Goulder, a student at Lasell Junior College, Auburndale.

However, the assembled small fry at the party appeared to take little notice of the discrepancy and had themselves a royal good time.

Yule

No bells will jingle on horse-drawn sleighs moving over snow-covered streets. Candles in windows will not be fashioned of honest tallow. Lights glowing from their tapered tips will be provided by electricity — not by naked flame.

But the spirit, the meaning, the feeling, the gladness of Christmas will be the same as they have been back through the ages.

This community has taken on the most colorful and festive Yuletide dress in all its history for the birthday of the Christ Child.

Electric candles glowing from windows have turned whole streets into scenes of beauty and brilliance, their radiance reflecting on the frosty air outside. In many homes green trees glisten under their glittering garb of bulbs and tinsel.

Inside the dwellings, where the window lights beam their message of cheer to passers-by, preparations are underway for the celebration of the holiday of holidays — the day the angels sing. Small children excitedly search for the largest stocking available that they can hang by the fireplace, voicing unbounded confidence that Santa will come prepared to fill it with good things, whatever its size may be.

Pleasant tasks are being performed, and on Christmas Eve, after the youngsters have been herded off protesting to bed, bundles will be brought out from hiding places to be deposited carefully under the tree. The turkey holds a place of very special honor in the refrigerator.

goodwill among men, generated yearly by the approach of Christmas, is evident everywhere as the gladsome Yuletide spirit mounts toward the flood tide it will reach on Christmas Day.

Behind the refrain of the carols, the color of the lights and sparkling wreaths, the glitter of the holly and tinsel, the celebration of Christmas, 1964, has its usual deep spiritual and religious undertone.

Special Yuletide services will be held in churches of all faiths and denominations throughout the community.

Midnight masses will be celebrated in the Catholic churches, with thousands of worshippers filing to the altar rails to receive the sacrament of Holy Communion on the anniversary of the day that Christ was born.

Yuletide rites also will be held in the Protestant churches. Choirs have been rehearsing for weeks for the special Christmas musical programs in their churches.

Groups of carolers will go through the community on Christmas Eve singing the ancient hymns of the Yuletide. Those who have heard them a thousand times will never stop thrilling to the strains of "Holy Night."

Meanwhile, the 11th hour shopping rush is underway, especially by the men folk who each year voice the observation that they had no realization Christmas was closing in on them quite so swiftly.

Proprietors of stores and shops report that they are prepared for the last-minute shopping rush and that they will have a wide variety of into headquarters for a night call as a final attempt. Phone calls will precede night calls, which will be made between 6 and 10 o'clock.

Two slips and a postcard will be left at homes in which there has been no contact made. Residents are requested to fill out all three as promptly as possible. A yellow slip is for census information, and a blue one for city records.

The slips are to be mailed to Arthur G. Heaney, Election Commission, City Hall. The postcard is addressed to the school Department and contains information on preschool children.

If residents are expecting to be out of town during the listing period they are asked to get in touch with listing headquarters at the police station by calling DE 2-6296.

The Wonder

Not the least of the wonders we commemorate this week was the simplicity surrounding the Birth itself. A carpenter named Joseph went with his young wife up from Nazareth to Bethlehem, the town of his fathers, to enroll for taxation as the governing Romans had ordered. Bethlehem was a simple hill town of no consequence at the time.

Joseph and Mary arrived late and weary, to find that the inn was crowded. So they took shelter in the stable with other late-comers. It was second-best, but humble travelers could not choose. It was shelter. There, in the stable, the Child was born.

This the simple beginnings. Add the shepherds on the night hills, the appearances of the angel, their journey to the stable, and it still remains one of the least adorned of all the great stories we cherish.

It is simple as was the Man Himself and His teaching. It was as simple as the Sermon on the Mount, which still remains as the ultimate basis of Christian belief and, in its essence, of the belief of free men of good-will everywhere.

Thus the simple beginnings. Add the shepherds among them. And in a stable there was born One Who came to speak to the multitudes about freedom and justice and fundamental rights. One who spoke in a simple tongue, in terms of the beasts of the land, the birds of the air, the lilies of the fields, and of man's responsibility to man.

The captains and the kings were marching up and down the land in full panoply, even as He was being born, and in the end they seemed to silence Him.

But it is His simple words which still live, not theirs.

It is the Birth in the stable that we solemnly commemorate, not the gathering at the crowded inn.

An Open House

Newton residents are invited to an open house at the Boston Center for Adult Education, 5 Commonwealth Ave., on Wednesday, Dec. 30, from 1 to 9 p.m.

Planned as a preview of winter classes which begin Jan. 4, the affair will feature a wide variety of interesting exhibits including ceramics, photography, drawing and painting, college and hooked and braided rugs.

A highlight of the evening's program will be live demonstrations by leaders and class members illustrating cake decorating, cooking, silk screening, upholstering and furniture refinishing, calligraphy, dressmaking, and wood carving.

There will be continuous entertainment in the Center's gilded Louis XIV Ballroom — a theatre-in-the-round featuring many exciting acts such as a short theatrical production, a yoga demonstration, Spanish and Greek dancing, a fashion show, and a poetry reading.

All open house events will be free and refreshments will be served. Guests will have an opportunity to see the Center in action, meet the instructors, and register for the winter term.

For further information and a free booklet listing more than 100 daytime and evening courses, write to the Center at 5 Commonwealth Ave., or phone CO 7-4430.

Mr. O'Neill explained that not as many temporary workers have been added this year for the heavy Christmas volume, the policy being to let the regular, year-round men have an opportunity to collect overtime pay, rather than to depend on extra help.

Richard Margolis and BrideMaking Home In Dedham

Mr. and Mrs. Richard A. Margolis (Kayla Lee Wyman), whose marriage took place recently at the Blue Hill Country Club in Canton, are making their home in Dedham.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Wyman of Waban. Mr. and Mrs. Jacob E. Margolis of Chestnut Hill are the bridegroom's parents.

Rabbi Harold Kastle officiated at the 8 o'clock candlelight service, which was followed by a reception.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of white peau de soie appliqued with Alencon lace. Her full-length mantilla of sheer illusion, edged with matching lace and sprinkled with pearls, was made by her mother. The imported European white fan she carried was interfaced with baby orchids.

Miss Deborah Margolis of Chestnut Hill, sister of the bridegroom, was honor maid, while the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Jerold Wyman of Miami, Fla., was matron of honor.

David G. Margolis of Framingham served as best man.

At the present time the maximum salaries in the Newton police department are $6015 for patrolmen, $6335 for sergeants, $7280 for lieutenants, $8490 for captains and $11,900 for the chief.

In addition to the $945 annual pay raise, the police are seeking other fringe benefits.

These include a three-week vacation after five years of service, a four-week vacation after 10 years of service, an additional $50 a year after five years of service up to a maximum of $300 a year and compensation for time spent in court on criminal cases on days off.

Traditionally, the members of the Newton fire department get the same pay as the members of the police department.

Guzzi Speaks, Tri-Captains Named, 174 Get Letters At Sports Dinner

Newton High School's annual sports banquet, held last week in Meadowbrook Junior High School, had three major features—awarding of sweatshirts and letters to 174 young athletes representing cross-country, soccer and football at all school levels, naming of tri-captains-elect for the 1965 football season, and an impressive guest appearance by Paul Guzzi.

The 1965 football captains will be Quarterback Dick DiLuzio, Fullback Bill Jonah and End Tom Warren. Coach Jim Ronayne made the announcement of their election.

DiLuzio is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gennero DiLuzio of 9 Rockland St., Newton Corner. The 16-year-old 6-2, 165-pound junior was the season's team leader in scoring with 20 points. He also completed 42 of 112 passes and did the punting.

Warren, son of Mrs. Mary Warren, 21 Rochester Rd., Newton, is also 16 and a 6-1, 165-pounder. Besides playing as an offensive end, he doubled as a defensive halfback.

Jonah, the season's workhorse, carried 75 times for 350 yards. He is a 202-pound, 5-11, 17-year-old junior, who lives at 353 Linwood Ave., Newtonville. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell V. Jonah live in Washington, D.C.

Among the head table guests, in addition to Paul Guzzi and William Southmayd, former Newton High footballers, who graduated to the Harvard gridiron, where they covered themselves with glory, were the following:

Teenagers Yule Party Is Held

The Christmas Party of Mrs. Juliet Ferguson's Newton Teenagers was held on Friday evening at the Waban Neighborhood Club. Dancing began at 8:45. Receiving that evening were Mrs. Christy R. Rufo of Waban and Mrs. Stamford D. Blitzer of Newton Lower Falls.

Introduced by Head Coach Jim Ronayne, Guzzi was described as "one of the most dedicated boys in my 19 coaching years." Paul spoke about his trials and heartaches while trying to make the grade, first in Newton High football and later as a member of the Harvard jayvees.

The acknowledged hero of this year's Harvard varsity victory over Yale told the youngsters present that "the performance you give on the field doesn't just depend on your ability. It's also based determination, pride, courage or just sheer guts."

"Don't accept mediocrity," he advised them, "but strive for greatness."

or 1967," he maintained. "That doesn't make sense."

Carmen expressed the conviction that the city would save money by building the new Bigelow Junior High now rather than later. He estimated that the interest costs in floating the bond issue to build the new school would be less than the rise which can be anticipated in construction expenses.

POOR DADDY! what's he got for Christmas...

The house is bedlam. A tangle of joyous kids and gay Christmas wrappings litter the floor.

In the midst of it all, Mommy and Daddy barely have time for a quick kiss, and a "Merry Christmas". Then, she's off to the kitchen to start Christmas dinner, while the kids play gleefully with their new toys.

But something bothers Daddy . . . something he tries hard to define. Is this Christmas? Is this what it really means?

He searches — but finds no answer. Later, at dinner, he sits at the head of the table. He pauses, suddenly, between bites of turkey and stuffing . . . stares at his family — his wife, his children. One by one, they look back at him . . . and, for a moment, all is still. Then, as if guided by an unseen hand, the children arise — even the toddler — and go to him.

As they crowd around, he sees their shining eyes, watching him now with trust, with gratitude, with love. He picks up the youngest and feels the small arms wind around his neck. "Daddy . . . you're my Daddy."

He glances at Mommy in intimate understanding silence . . . and that's when he knows!

Yes, this is Christmas . . . this, and all year 'round. This . . . my family, my home, my heritage. This . . . my life . . . the gifts that I receive.

Poor Daddy? No. Rich Daddy!

Rich in blessings . . . rich in satisfaction . . . rich in giving . . .

These. The greatest gifts of all.

Newton South High School's hockey team won its opening game of the season last Saturday as it overwhelmed Bedford High 7-1 in a contest played at the Loring Arena in Framingham.

The victory put the Lions in a tie with Lynnfield for first place in the Dual County League.

Andy Storey spearheaded the Newton South attack. The second line wingman drove home four goals, scoring in each period and tallying twice in the final period.

On Thursday afternoon the Lions will play their second game of the season against Weston. South should record its second straight triumph. The faceoff is slated for 4 p.m.

400 Families Get Needed Yule Help

More than 400 Newton families had a brighter Christmas this year due to the generosity of more than 30 organizations and individuals who have cooperated with the Christmas Service Project.

Families helped through this project are referred to the Community Council office by agencies, departments and schools. Most of these families receive checks from $5 to $25, depending on the size of the family and the seriousness of the situation.

This money is intended to be used in whatever way the family wishes, but most often buys toys for the children or a little extra food, which otherwise would not be possible.

Funds used for this purpose are contributed by many groups including Newton trust funds, namely, the Horace Cousins Industrial Fund and the Perpetual Benevolent Fund. Also among major contributors are the Salvation Army, Newton Service Unit, Mothers' Rest Club and members of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs.

It was presented by President Wendell R. Bauckman as a result of a recent aldermanic resolution.

Said Bauckman: "This young man represents the type of youth we admire and who exemplifies the city in its majority."

"He is the son of a former alderman who served the city

Two Newton businessmen, Sydney Sacks and Stanley S. Sacks, were the donors of an unique gift made to Senator Edward M. "Ted" Kennedy as a tribute to his own recent "Profile in Courage."

An M-14 rifle gunstock expertly carved and inscribed in gold-leafed letters was presented by the Newton men to Joseph F. Gargan, cousin of the Senator, to honor the dauntless courage displayed by Senator Kennedy following his plane accident of last June.

Carved into the stock and gold-leafed was the legend, "Get Well Quick, Sen. Kennedy." "H. Sacks & Sons, and Employees, 153 Harvard St., Brookline."

Deadline Is Near For Registration

The Registry of Motor Vehicles will be open this week through Thursday to receive and process 1965 registration applications for motorists.

All Bay State vehicles must be registered and carry 1965 validating windshield sticker from midnight December 31 in order to be operated legally on the highways.

Windshield area on inside where sticker is to be affixed should be carefully cleaned to assure sticker adhering to the glass. Sticker must be attached to upper center of inside of windshield.

The lucky baby to be so honored will be the first one born after the stroke of midnight, December 31st and to Newton parents, who report it to this newspaper.

Lions Club Check For Blind Center

The Newton Lions Club at the annual Christmas party held recently presented a check for $100 to the Catholic Guild for all the blind in Newton.

Lions Club President Donald F. Claffin made the check presentation which was accepted by the Rev. Robert H. Carolan, Harvest Chairman for 1964, on behalf of the Guild.

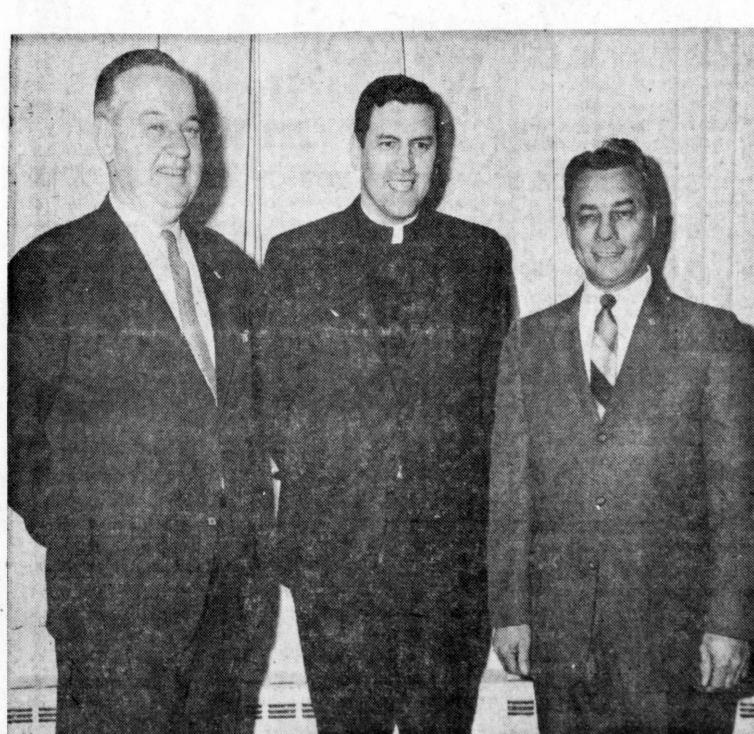

President Claffin expressed his esteem for the work of the Catholic Guild for all the blind at St. Paul's Rehabilitation Center, the St. Bernard's Geriatric Adjustment Center and the American Center for Research in Blindness and Rehabilitation, located at 770 Centre St., in Newton.

Victor Nicolazzo, a past president of the Newton Lions Club, also is a member of the special gifts committee of the Harvest Drive which is an annual appeal of the Catholic Guild for All the Blind. He also took part in the presentation of the check.

President Claffin stressed the fact that Lions Clubs throughout the country are vitally interested in eye research. He stated that the Newton Club has localized its

New Program For Dog Control Due

A new program for the control of Newton's unruly dogs will be put into effect within the next few years.

Exactly what plan will be adopted will depend upon the recommendations made to Mayor Donald L. Gibbs by the members of an advisory committee now studying the problem.

The Mayor estimated that the new setup for handling the city's misbehaving canines should be in operation by early February.

This is a matter which had been pigeon-holed for over a year while more pressing problems have been met.

But Mayor Gibbs is now prepared to act speedily on the proposals made to him by an advisory committee.

While no definite and final decisions yet have been made, the indications are that these steps will be taken.

A full-time dog officer will be appointed. He will have the necessary equipment for swooping up dogs violating the city ordinances and a truck for hauling the animals to a pound.

For the present, at least, the city will not build its own pound.

Instead, facilities will be rented at one or more of the dog hospitals in Newton, and the canines will be housed there until they are claimed by their owners.

He was graduated from Newton High School in 1960 and from Colby College in 1964.

While at Newton High, he played varsity baseball and basketball. At Colby, he was on the varsity basketball team and also served as president of Hillel and the Inter-faith Society.

He served as advertising manager and also as business manager for the college newspaper, the Colby Echo. He was a member of Tau Delta Phi.

Stephen Geary of 14 St. James street was so painfully injured that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Geary, took him to Newton-Wellesley Hospital where doctors, fearful that he had suffered a ruptured spleen, held him over Christmas for observation.

Attending physicians said the attack might have cost the boy his life.

Ground Breaking For Synagogue

It is expected that this operation will be virtually self-supporting financially and that the expenses will be largely met from increased fees for licensing dogs and from the fines and assessments levied upon the owners of dogs who break the rules.

However, Mayor Gibbs and other municipal authorities will be forced to "play it by ear" until they ascertain how the new arrangement works out.

The Mayor intends to submit a request to the Board of Aldermen in January for an appropriation of funds to get the new program started.

The new plan for the control of unruly and disobedient dogs will be a compromise worked out as a result of a demand by a large group of Newton residents for a so-called leash law prohibiting dogs from running loose in the city.

Instead, the Mayor and Aldermen decided upon a dog-control ordinance under which the canines need not be on a leash but are prohibited from doing certain things.

Specifically, the dogs cannot enter schools, schoolyards, playgrounds or other recreational facilities, chase vehicles, bite, bark, howl or in any other way "disturb the quiet of any person."

One question puzzling some persons is how a dog is expected to distinguish between a field which he is allowed to

Break Ground For Synagogue And New School

More than 500 people attended the recent ground breaking ceremonies for the new Synagogue and Religious School of Congregation Beth El-Atereth Israel in Newton.

Mayor Donald L. Gibbs officiated at the exercises at the site of the synagogue and religious school to be built at the corner of Ward St., and Morseland Ave., in Newton Centre.

It was announced that more than 1000 worshippers will be accommodated at the new synagogue.

Taking part in the ceremonies with Mayor Gibbs were, Rabbi Abraham Kooly; Nathan Pearlman, chairman of ground breaking; David Gopen, chairman of the building committee; Herman Dorfman, co-chairman of building committee; and Melvin L. Cheifetz, president of the congregation.

Rep-Elect Mann Lauds M&B Pact

Representative-elect Theodore D. Mann praised the MBTA for its successful signing of the agreement with the Middlesex & Boston Railway Company to continue service to the City of Newton through June 30, 1965.

Mann, who is also an alderman in the City of Newton, has called to the attention of the MBTA his resolution requesting the improvement of the present public transportation service. In his resolution, Mann stated "There is no bus service on Sundays, a lessor service on Saturdays and a very minimal service on the other days of the week. Additional service should be instituted inasmuch as one of the effects of good public transportation is the elimination of private vehicular traffic," Mann stated.

Bay State Judo Club Holds Demonstration

The Bay State Judo Club, located at Tyler Terrace, Newton Centre Playground, held its promotional for the Junior members recently.

Third degree black belt, Oliver Boehm, and first degree black belt, Miss Dorothy Douglas, conducted a rigorous examination of the knowledge of Judo expected for the particular rank the youngster was aspiring to. The examination consisted of falling, holding, grappling and throwing techniques, followed by man to man competition.

The following were advanced to one of the three degrees of white belt which entitles the Judoka to wear one, two, or three stripes on his belt signifying rank.

To white belt, one stripe: Barbara Buettner, David Buettner, Edward Buettner, John Buettner, Forrest Feiosk, Theresa Feiosk, Bryant Franson, Gary Franson, Bruce Miley, David Rachlin, Stuart Rudolph, Bradley Sideman.

To white belt, two stripes: Charles McKenna, Michael McKenna, Peter Saffner, Douglas Yoffe.

To White Belt, three stripes: Joseph Richardson, Jr.; To Green Belt, third degree: Karen Richardson; To Green Belt, second degree: Alan Senior, Jay Scott Sidman.

Two local boys, Alan Senior and Jay Scott Sidman advanced to second degree green belt by virtue of their knowledge of Judo and ability to beat a twelve man line in consecutive competition.

The club is especially proud of its first girl to win the coveted green belt from the Newton Club. She is Karen Richardson, 11 years old from Tewksbury. Karen displayed outstanding technique in all phases of the examination and fought the same twelve man line. Her score—12 wins, no losses.

The club is also accepting applications for classes in beginners' Judo. Those interested may apply at the field house, Newton Centre play-

Personnel Of Schools Boost '64 United Fund

A "banner year" is how a United Fund volunteer describes the recent UF campaign among Newton public school personnel.

Vito Sammarco, public schools chairman, reports that school personnel increased contributions by 18.2 per cent over last year's gift. A total of $11,602.50 was donated this year (1964) to aid 199 health, welfare and social agencies in their work in 1965.

Mr. Sammarco stressed that 88.2 per cent of administrators, teachers, special departments, secretaries and custodians contributed in the recent campaign.

"On behalf of the Newton School system and the United Fund," Mr. Sammarco asserted, "I would like to express my appreciation and gratitude to the many volunteers throughout the system, who have given unstintingly of their time, energy and patience in meeting the health and welfare needs of our community."

The club is also accepting applications for classes in beginners' Judo. Those interested may apply at the field house, Newton Centre play-

Dog

enter and a playground from which he is barred.

That, however, is apparently a problem for the dog and his owner to work out.

The dog-control ordinance has been in force in Newton for the past year but up to now has not been rigidly enforced.

Here are the rules and regulations which will be enforced after the new dog officer is appointed.

A dog may be ordered restrained by the dog officer for any of the following reasons:

"A. If found at large or unmuzzled, as the case may be, while an order of the dog officer for the restraint or muzzling of such dog is in effect.

"B. If found in a school, schoolyard or public recreational area." "C. For having bitten any person." "D. For having killed or maimed or otherwise damaged any other domesticated animal." "E. For chasing any vehicle on any public way or any way open to public travel in the city." "F. For any violation of section 3.10."

Section 3.10 specifies: "No person shall own or keep in the city any dog which by barking, biting, howling, or in any other manner disturbs the quiet of any person."

When the dog officer issues an order for the restraint of a dog, the owner of the animal may petition that such order be vacated.

If the dog officer fails to vacate his restraining order within 10 days, the dog-owner may appeal to the Newton district court.

Any owner or keeper of a dog who fails to comply with the order of the dog officer while it is in effect is liable to a $10 fine.

Members of the advisory committee who will shortly make their recommendations to Mayor Gibbs have been studying the system used in Lowell which has a dog officer and an effective system for the control of canines.

Lowell has a full-time dog officer such as Newton shortly will have.

Instead of the old-fashioned butterfly net, he has a lead pipe with a loop on the end of it with which he gathers up a misbehaving dog.

He also has what is known as a tranquilizer gun which he can shoot at a dog. This injects an animal as would a hypodermic needle and brings the animal under control.

As a last resort the Lowell dog officer has a revolver with which he can kill an unruly dog who cannot be handled any other way.

It is not anticipated that Newton's dog officer will be allowed to carry a revolver or kill any animals — at least at the beginning of what is admittedly an experiment.

How the new system will work out is a matter of conjecture.

Some residents undoubtedly will feel that it does not go far enough. Many dog-owners presumably will protest that it goes too far.

A dog-owner will still be allowed to let his pet run loose outside, but he will be responsible for what the animal does while he's out on his own.

Several home-owners have asked whether a dog could be restrained for knocking over trash barrels.

The answer seems to be that he could be — if he makes any noise and disturbs the quiet in doing so. It is somewhat difficult to figure out how he could do it without creating a disturbance. There is no specific wire, lead covered cables and field communication wires.

The 21-year-old soldier received basic training at Fort Dix, N. J.

A 1961 graduate of Newton South High School, Greenberg attended Bentley College of Accounting and Finance, Boston. He was associated with Abraham Greenberg, Certified Public Accountant, Boston, before going on active duty.

Letters

Fire Dept. Praised

Editor of The Graphic:
Fire Chief Frederick A. Perkins, Jr., was the recipient last week of the following appreciative letter from a Newton family.

"Dear Chief Perkins,
I wish to commend you and all other personnel of your department for the instant action we received on our call for assistance upon the fire at our home on December 15th. I am well aware the damage would have been considerably greater had it not been for the efficient and thorough job your men performed in protecting our household furnishings with coverings.

Many thanks, for the tremendous job of cleaning debris and closing of windows and covering of damage to the roof.

Thankfully yours,
Leo O'Connor & Family"

Postal Appreciation

Editor of The Graphic:
In behalf of the Post Office Department and all of the employees of the Boston Postal District, I wish to thank all of your readers for their early deposit of Christmas cards and gift packages.

This year the receipt of mail one to two days earlier than heretofore permitted the post office to lower the peak days, distribute the volume over a longer period and make it possible to utilize experienced postal employees more efficiently, with obvious advantages to the public.

We especially thank your newspaper for the splendid news coverage, editorials and photographs which served to convey information to the public and explain the progress of handling some 300 million pieces of Christmas mail in Boston this year.

May we wish for you, your staff and all of your readers, our sincere wishes for a Happy and Healthful New Year.

Respectfully yours,
Ephraim Martin,
Postmaster

Art Association Meets January 7

The first meeting in 1965 of the Newton Art Association, Inc., will be held on Thursday, January 7th, at 7:30 p.m. in the Beethoven School, Waban.

A members group, Mrs. George W. Palmer III, Roy A. Randall, Lester M. Peterson and Thomas Eaton, well-known artists and teachers, will demonstrate their unique skill in their favorite mediums for this special event. Guests are always welcome.

Nancy Carson, Editor, Guest Of Sisterhood

Finally Christina Lowell, Marcia Lurensky, Ellen Margolis, Aline Marquis, Daniel Matloff, Gerald Mazwell, Mary Medlar, Carole O'Donnell, Sidney Olasky, John Orenberg, David Parker, Ilene Posner, Gerald Pomanow, Gail Ross, Jane Rousseau, Loretta Ryan, Isabelle Scichilone, Amy Scott, Carlton Stewart, Thomas Touchstone, Dawne Weathaver, Therese Woodle, Jane Yokim, Eliot Nierman.

Nancy Carson, editor of the noted column, "Between Ourselves," is to be the guest speaker of the morning. A graduate of Simmons College, Miss Carson plays an active part in community affairs as a Town Meeting member, and a board member of many local organizations.

Meredith Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker Jr., 4 Bradford Rd., Newton Highlands, was a soloist on the recorder for the Madrigal Group in a program of Christmas vespers at Lake Erie College, Painesville, Ohio.

"The people allowed to vote in that election," the letter maintains, "were not representative of all the people in the state because Negroes were systematically denied the right to vote."

"It is legally possible for the recent elections in Mississippi to be declared invalid and new free elections to be required," the letter insists.

Signers of the letter were the following:

John M. Burgess, Episcopal suffragan bishop of Massachusetts; Professor Paul Deats Jr., the Rev. Harold R. Fray Jr., Rabbi Albert I. Gordon, Father William J. Kenney, Rabbi Samuel Perlman, the Rev. Leslie T. Pennington, Dr. Count Gibson, Chairman Haskell C. Freedman of the School Committee, Lawrence E. Cooke, Jerome Grossman, Edward V. Hickey, Kivie Kaplan, Rep. Theodore D. Mann, Rep. Irving Fishman, Rep. Paul S. Mallory, Rep. Joseph G. Bradley and Alderman William Carmen.

Also challenging the seating of the Congressmen-elect was Edward L. Richmond, chairman of the Newton Committee for Fair Housing and Equal Rights.

Political Highlights

Furcolo, who served two terms as Governor, might attempt a political comeback, possibly as a candidate for Congress, if he is acquitted.

Thompson is still a member of the House of Representatives and Crimmins a member of the Governor's Council. Their political futures obviously will be affected by the outcome of their court trials.

Giles was State Public Safety Commissioner, Gibbons a member of the State's Government Center Commission, DiNatale a member of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority and Benoit the chairman of the State Housing Board when they were indicted.

They will receive their salaries for the periods of their suspension if they are found not guilty.

Many observers have expressed concern at the length of time which elapses between the indictment of a public official and the actual trial to determine his innocence or guilt.

Men who were indicted as long ago as May, 1963, for example, have not yet been tried 20 months later.

Attorney General Edward W. Brooke, however, has emphasized that this is not the fault of his office and that anyone who wishes a speedy trial can get it.

What apparently has happened is that attorneys representing indicted officials have taken various legal steps in behalf of their clients which have resulted in delaying the actual trials.

Massachusetts is widely known as a ballot-splitting State. It lived up to that reputation in the November election when it went overwhelmingly for a Democratic President and U.S. Senator but elected a Republican Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Attorney General.

The reason for this is that thousands upon thousands of people vote for the man rather than the party label. Why shouldn't they have that same right when it comes to choosing a Governor and Lieutenant Governor?

Except for his service in the Executive Council, a Lieutenant Governor performs no important functions unless special duties are assigned to him by the Governor.

He actually is a standby who is ready to take over the direction of the State government if anything should happen to the Governor.

Because of the uncertainty of life, a Lieutenant Governor should be qualified to serve as Governor.

Governor-elect John A. Volpe, who originally fathered the crime board, has intimated at times that he may seek to extend its life.

Attorney General Brooke, on the other hand, has filed a bill asking additional funds for his office so it can take over the functions of the Crime Commission when that agency ceases its work.

Some new indictments on the basis of Crime Commission evidence are expected in well-informed political quarters before the New Year is many weeks old.

Attorney General Brooke and members of his staff have been presenting evidence to a Grand Jury which was assembled by the Crime Commission during a probe into the operations of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority.

Whether the anticipated indictments will stem from that investigation or a separate one is not known since the Grand Jury proceedings under the law are secret and cannot be divulged.

Newton High Faces Major Hockey Tilts

Newton High School's hockey team, which defeated Rindge Tech 6-4 last Saturday, plays two important GBI league games this week.

The Tigers meet Brookline High at the Boston Arena at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon (Dec. 29) and Waltham High at 2:30 Saturday afternoon (Jan. 2).

If Newton can win those two games, it will be in the thick of the competition for the GBI League title.

As matters presently stand, Newton and Brookline are tied for third place in the league standing. Each team has two victories and one defeat.

Waltham is unbeaten at this writing and is tied with Arlington for first place in the league race. Each team has three wins and no losses.

Newton fought off a last period rally by Rindge Tech to win last Saturday's game.

The Tigers held a 4-lead going into the final period, but then Rindge came up with four goals.

Jeff MacLaughlin and Dick Toomey came through with last period scores to give Newton its two-point margin.

George Mechem performed the "hat trick" for the Tigers as he tallied three times.

This could be a make-or-break week for the Newton skaters.

Woman Burned In Xmas Tree Fire

A Hingham woman suffered burns of both hands as she attempted to put out a fire which started in a Christmas tree while visiting at the home of her son, Dr. Andrew Huvos of 530 Ward street, Newton Centre.

Mrs. Magdolis Huvos was treated for the burns at the Newton-Wellesley.

She smelled smoke in the living room and on checking found a curtain ablaze.

Mr. Huvos pulled the curtain down from the window in an effort to extinguish the blaze which apparently had been caused by a short circuit in the Yule lights on a Christmas tree. The blaze was confined to the living room in the home.

25 years ago, who was proud of his son, and rightfully so."

In accepting the board's commendation, the young man who has been credited with Harvard's win over Yale last month, said:

"It is with a deep sense of humility that I accept this commendation. I am proud and fortunate to be born and raised in this city. The background I received in Newton schools was a great help.

"I hope I can try as hard as my father tried in doing what he thought right. I hope that I can inspire others as he inspired me. I accept your commendation as the proud son of Alfred R. Guzzi, who was the youngest man and first man of Italian descent to be elected to the board."

Help

Among the departments and agencies who referred Newton families in need of help are the Public Welfare Department, public schools, Visiting Nurse Assn., Rebecca Pomroy House, Newton-Wellesley Hospital, Family Counseling Service, Newton Boys' Club, Newton Community Center, Salvation Army, Newton Lodge of Elks, St. Vincent de Paul, Kenrick Fund and Churches.

Since the 1930's, the Christmas Service Project has been helping match Newton's families, who are hard hit by illness or bad luck, with groups and individuals who are able and willing to help.

Originally Christmas baskets were distributed to families, but this was later changed to checks so that the families could buy what they wanted most.

Officers of the Christmas Service Committee this year are Mrs. Victor D. Baer and Mrs. Richard D. Hurter, as co-chairmen representing the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs; Constance S. Garbutt, Treasurer, who is also executive director of the Newton Community Council.

Groups and individuals interested in knowing more about this project and how they might be able to assist in this work should contact the Newton Community Council, 1990 Washington St., Newton Lower Falls.

Mr. Harrington, in accepting the appointment stressed the importance of the UCP services to this community which help children with cerebral palsy to become at least partly self-sufficient. He noted further that the United Cerebral Palsy Association represents an important hope to the handicapped children as well as to their parents.

"These children have the courage and determination to try to help themselves overcome enormous handicaps, and they deserve all the help that we can give them," Attorney Harrington declared.

To assure the success of the campaign in Newton, which offers as its theme, "Happiness Is Helping," Harrington called for a record number of volunteers to join the drive. Those wishing to volunteer in the campaign for the local ef-

This suburban Branch is one year old and during the first year, under the leadership of Thomas Saunders, of Framingham, the members participated in many Civil Rights activities.

Mr. Roberts feels strongly that the pressure must be kept on. "The American people cannot be lulled to sleep with the few gains that have been made, because there is still a long way to go. For those who think that the Negro is moving too fast, I say to them, if we go any slower, we will be moving backwards. Civil Rights is not a job for the 'sunshine soldier' — for in the movement, it is raining all the time."

Elizabeth Ann Pike Married*To Rev. Ned C. Watts Jr.

The Boston University Chapel was the setting recently for the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Ann Pike, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George M. Pike of 44 Chapin road, Newton Centre, to the Rev. Ned C. Watts, son of Dr. Ned C. Watts of Jellico, Tenn., and the late Mrs. Watts.

The 11 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. William C. Moore, professor of religious education at the Boston University School of Theology. Master Phillip Watts, brother of the groom, was an acolyte. A reception was given at the Longwood Towers in Brookline.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown fashioned of pure white silk taffeta. The bodice, made of Chantilly lace, had a scoop neckline and elbow-length sleeves. The full skirt, marked with lace appliques, terminated in a chapel-length train.

A princess jeweled crown was fastened with a hand-fashioned butterfly silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Barbara E. Axt of Newton Centre was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Leslie Weinstein and Miss Grace Olken, both of Cambridge.

Dr. Watts served as best man for his son. Dr. David M. Davis of Waltham, Spencer J. McCallie of Cambridge, William S. Stamey Jr., of Taylorsville, North Carolina, William Pike and Daniel Pike, both of Newton Centre, as well as Edward Fowler of Knoxville, Tenn., were the ushers.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a three piece camel's hair suit with alligator shoes and bag and elbow-length brown kid gloves.

After a trip to New York City, the couple plan to live in Chelmsford.

The bride is a graduate of Washington University, St. Louis, and Boston University.

A graduate of McCalle School, Chattanooga, Emory University, where he received both his B.A. and B.D. degrees, the bridegroom is a candidate for his ThD degree at Boston University. He is also founding minister of Aldersgate Methodist Church in Chelmsford.

Mrs. George Ganss of Auburndale, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Miss Martha Beggs of Atlanta, Ga., Miss Susan Furher of Auburndale and Miss Arline Lamont of Cochituate were the other attendants.

George Ganss of Auburndale, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man. Ushering were Fred Ferris of Auburndale, Charles Johnson of North Carolina and Clifford Beecher of Northboro.

Washington, D.C., was the honeymoon destination of the couple.

For information on getting the films and accompanying literature, Mrs. Edith B. Coburn, 112 Water St., Boston, should be contacted. No charge is made.

This Week's Best Buys

Courtesy of Massachusetts Department of Agriculture. Apples—McIntosh, Cortland, Red Delicious, Golden Delicious and Baldwin are all in good supply and reasonably priced.

Carrots—Supply continues good, quality excellent, prices reasonable.

Cranberries—Whole fresh natives continue in adequate supply at attractive prices.

Lettuce, Greenhouse—Supply now at seasonal peak; prices attractive.

Parsnips—Quality continues uniformly excellent; supply remains up and prices are reasonable.

Squash, Butternut—Good supply on hand; prices reasonable to low.

Turnips, Purple Top—Supply adequate for demand; prices reasonable to low.

Today's Agri-Fact: Cranberries are definitely cranberries, but such is not the case with artichokes. Lou Webster, reporting on two varieties for the Dept. of Agriculture, says they are no more alike than chalk and cheese. One is the Jerusalem artichoke and nobody knows why they are called that. They grow on the roots of Helianthus Tuberosus, a wild sunflower. It is neither an artichoke nor does it come from Jerusalem. It is one of the few plants cultivated by American Indians. It looks like a warty potato all out of shape that doesn't taste like much of anything.

In soups, etc., it is supposed to fill you up without too many calories. The other artichoke is the bud of the plant Cyana Scolinoides, eaten by dipping the cooked scales in mayonnaise or other dressing. The globe or bur artichokes come from California, but Jerusalem artichokes may be raised here in Massachusetts.

Burglars Steal Coin Collection

Burglars carried away a coin collection after breaking into the home of George Mosesian at 254 Waverley avenue, Newton. They entered the dwelling by breaking the glass near the lock of the door.

Listed as missing were a set of Washington quarters dated 1932 to 1964, a set of Franklin half-dollars dated 1946 to 1964, rolls of nickels and 20 rolls of pennies.

Mrs. Zabel Kondazian of 260 Waverley avenue, sister of Mr. Mosesian, discovered the break which is being investigated by Police Inspector John B. Shorton.

George Adams of 40 Marlboro Drive, Newton Centre, reported to police that two boys tried to open the rear door of his home about 8:10 Christmas night. They sped away in a black sedan when he turned on the lights.

The home of Charles I. Shapiro at 182 Brookline St., Newton Centre, was entered either on Christmas Eve or Christmas Day, but as far as could be ascertained nothing was taken by the intruders.

An attempt to enter the Educational Electronics Co. on California street on the day before Christmas was reported to police by George G. Mason, the manager.

Orchids Thrill First Graders At Burr School

The first grade at the Burr School was a bit of fragrant Hawaii recently when a special airmail shipment of orchids and various other flowers were received from that Pacific island.

The blooms were from the yards of the boys and girls in a class at the elementary school at the University of Hawaii with whom the Burr school students have been corresponding.

Students in the first grade at the Burr School had sent the children in Hawaii fall foliage, which they waxed, along with acorns, horse chestnuts, pine cones and other New England flora not familiar to Hawaii.

Orchids flown to Newton in December constituted a genuine thrill for the first graders at the Burr School according to their teacher, Janet Hains.

Sitrus State

Sacramento — California claims it produces more citrus fruit than any other state.

Weekend Loot Cash And Liquor

Police are investigating weekend breaks in four homes.

Five bottles of liquor and $84.50 was the loot in the home of John J. Arena, 573 Centre street, Newton.

Loot from the home of Frank Early, 53 Washington street, Newton, comprised a small quantity of liquor and beer.

In the home of Samuel Waldstein, 354 Waban avenue, Waban, and a closed house at 15 Varick Hill road, nearby, police were unable to determine what was taken.
